

Index

Page numbers in italic type indicate figures or tables.

- Action. See Agency Action theory, 242, 244–245
Acylicity of preferences, 99, 180–181
Adaptationism. See also Natural selection convergence and, 324
    economic, 369–375
    empirical, 359–360, 364–369 explanatory, 358–370 methodological, 359–360, 369
Addiction, 341, 345–346
Agency. See also Behavior analysis of, 81–82
    as basic economic concept, 377 candidates for, 35–36, 158–160, 239, 242–243, 253–256 cardinalism in, 85
    consistency and, 109
    definition of, 140
    economic, 158–160, 213, 244–253, 257, 276–279, 304–306
    folk psychology of, 237–239 goals and, 242–243
    humanism and, 239, 251, 256 insanity and, 286
    intentional-stance functionalism and, 255 morality and, 240–242, 248–249 multiple, 252, 254, 319, 335–336, 356 (see also subpersonal)
    neuroeconomics and, 320–334 normative social roots of, 237–238 as object of distinct analysis, 82 personhood and, 132, 237–258, 256, 320–353 philosophical approach to, 239–244, 254–255
    prototypical, 251–256
    RPT and, 245–247
    subpersonal, 323, 330–332, 339–340, 343 (see also multiple) utility maximization and, 129–130, 137, 140 will and, 257
Agriculture, and development of self, 349
Ainslie, George, 184–186, 310, 319, 337–353
Allen, Roy, 86, 97–98
Alpha utility theory, 177 Animals economics and behavior of, 322, 325–326 intelligence of, 272–275
Anthropocentric neoclassicism, 154–157, 181–182, 184–185, 210, 213–214
Argument patterns, 147
Aristotle, 31, 148–149, 193
    on agency, 213–214, 237, 240–241, 243–244, 251
    on economics, 74–75, 126, 269 on well-being, 138
Arrow, Kenneth, 9, 352
Artificial intelligence (AI)
    on agency, 330–331
    and central control of self, 233–234, 261–262
    connectionism and, 62
    and mind, 41–42 and modeling of human capacities, 287 and simulation, 10–11
Artificial life research, 372

- Atomism
 physical, 222–223
 Robinson Crusoe model and, 217
 social, 221–223
 Augustine, Saint, 339
- Baars, B., 231
 Baldwin effect, 322
 Base-rate neglect, 277
 Batterman, R., 222
 Baumol, William, 114
 Becker, Gary, 124, 150–159, 184, 269
 Becker–DeGroot–Marshack (BDM) mechanism, 177
 Behavior. See also Agency marginal principle and, 79–80, 82–84 Quine on, 110
   scarcity and, 195
 Behavioral economics. See Experimental economics
 Behavioral sciences evolutionary game theory and, 205 information-processing dynamics as basis for, 382
   significance for economics of, 19 Behaviorism
   methodological, 227–228
   Robbins against, 95–96
   Samuelson and, 100–114
 Beliefs. See Propositional attitudes
 Bentham, Jeremy, 76–79, 209
 Benzion, U., 183
 Berns, G., 322, 329, 330, 339
 Binmore, Ken, 12, 14, 144, 193–194, 204, 283, 293, 298, 315, 358, 386–389
 Biological taxonomy, 20–21
 Biology, 364–369
 Bishop, John, 241–242, 248–250
 Black–Scholes model, 329
 Blaug, M., 104, 221
 Bottlenecks, in cognition, 233–234, 251, 252
 Bowles, S., 215
 Bradley, F. H., 336
 Brain. See also Mind computer vs., 42
   connectionism and, 62–63
   and introspection, 231–232 mental states and, 39, 40 mind and, 259
   as parallel processor, 233–235 as solution to biological problems, 363 as valuation organ, 322–334
 Breiter, H., 329
 Brittle-stars, 262–264, 271
 Brown, J., 366
 Buchanan, R., 125
 Bundling of interests, 341–342, 345
 Burge, Tyler, 48
- Caldwell, B., 88
Calvin and Hobbes (Waterson), 185
 Camerer, C., 122, 175, 178, 313
 Canover, K., 338
 Cardinalism, 79, 113–114
 Carlyle, Thomas, 386
 Carnap, Rudolf, 31, 103, 111, 118, 164
 Causation informational relations and, 68 positivism on, 90 stability maintenance in, 249–250
 Cheney, D., 274
 Chew, S., 177
 Child development, 283–284, 287–289
 Child rearing. See Family-planning behavior, utility analysis of Choice. See also Decision making;
   Expected utility theory; Judgment;
   Preferences
   economics as based on, 89–92
   evolutionary game theory on, 198 and preference in Samuelson, 104–106
 Chomsky, Noam, 155, 300
 Churchland, Paul, 50–51, 56–57, 110, 191–192, 197
 Clark, A., 260
 Classical game theory. See Game theory
 Classical political economy, 76
 Coase, Ronald, 125
 Cockroaches, 252
 Cognitive science development of, 7 economics and, 7–16, 25–26, 69, 383–384
   as “imperialistic,” 25–26
   self as portrayed by, 26 (see also Dennett, Daniel, on self)
 Cohesion, 222
 Collier, John, 222
 Colman, A., 196–197
 Commodity, definition of, 80
 Common sense. See Folk theories Compatibility hypothesis. See Matching hypothesis Complex sociality, 272–279, 321

- Computation, in economic theory, 7–16, 389–390
- Computational functionalism, 42
- Conflicting goals, 252
- Connectionism, and artificial intelligence, 62
- Consciousness. See also Introspection; Mind
- economics and, 38
  - and introspection, 228–231, 230
  - meanings of, 229
  - multiple-drafts model of, 233–236, 264–265, 323–324
  - and self, 35–36, 225, 228
- Constantinides, G., 190
- Consumption, 73
- Convergence, 324, 368–369
- Conway Morris, S., 368
- Coordination games
- children's play as, 289
  - infant development as, 283–284
  - signaling moves in, 295, 297–311
  - social development as, 273–276
  - social interaction as, 282, 289
  - among strangers, 292–293
- Cosmides, L., 334, 384
- Cosmopolitanism, 27–28
- Cox, J., 177
- Creationism, 144–145
- Crusoe, Robinson. See Robinson Crusoe model
- Cubitt, R., 181
- Culture. See also Intersubjectivity
- emotion and, 303
  - explanatory adaptationism and, 362–363
  - identity of nation and, 347
  - language and, 300
- Cycling of preferences, 180–181, 352
- Darwin, Charles, 43, 144–147
- Davidson, D., 249
- Davis, John, 111, 115, 117–118, 122, 136–137, 155–157, 160, 187, 192, 223, 229, 236, 270, 319
- Dawkins, R., 275
- Debreu, Gerard, 112
- Decision making. See also Choice;
- Expected utility theory; Judgment;
  - Preferences
- common truths about, 174–175
  - empirical models of, 174–176
  - and exponential discounting, 182–183
  - and hyperbolic discounting, 183
  - inconsistencies in, 182–185
  - judgment heuristics, 170–172
  - market aggregation and, 189–190
  - natural statistical competence, 172–174
- Democracy, 352
- Dennett, Daniel
- on adaptationism, 358–360
  - on agency, 243, 331–332
  - on beliefs, 63
  - central theses of, 271
  - on consciousness, 35–36, 220, 233–236, 323–324
  - and eliminativism, 270–271
  - on existence, 68–69
  - influence of, 36
  - and instrumentalism, 160–161
  - on intentionality, 35–36, 38, 44, 49–50, 52–54, 61
  - on introspection, 228–231
  - on logical behaviorism and mind as information processor, 40
  - and metaphysics, 63–64
  - Mirowski on, 11–15, 392–393
  - and multiple-drafts model of consciousness, 233–236, 323–324
  - on natural selection, 370–373
  - on philosophical necessity, 123
  - and realism, 161
  - on self, 12–13, 250
- Descartes, René, 220, 223, 225, 323
- Desires. See Propositional attitudes
- Determinism, economic, 72
- Dowding, K., 133–134
- Dretske, F., 243
- Dualism, mind–body, 39, 41, 220
- Dumouchel, P., 298, 300
- Dupré, John, 19–20, 25–27, 35, 60, 63–64, 69, 101, 117–118, 152, 165, 198, 214, 270, 351, 382–387
- Dylan, Bob, 288
- Dysfunctional relationship, 302
- Eberhart, R., 392
- Economic adaptationism, 369–375
- Economic determinism, 72
- Economic individualism, 221, 223, 232, 305–306
- Economics
- animal behavior and, 322, 325–326
  - central planning in, critique of, 233–234

- Economics (cont.)
- cognitive science and, 7–16, 25–26, 69, 383–384
  - consumption aspect of, 73
  - definition of, 87
  - domain of, 74–75, 115–119, 126–127
  - experimental (see Experimental economics)
  - future of, Mirowski on, 8–15, 389–394
  - historical-sociological approach to, 2
  - historicism and, 88
  - history of (see History of economics)
  - hyperempiricism in, 28–29
  - as “imperialistic,” 25–26
  - macro- and microeconomics, 290–291, 316, 318–320, 345, 353, 380–381
  - mathematical vs. empirical emphases in, 4
  - methodology of, Friedman’s, 160–163, 168
  - natural selection and, 370
  - neoclassical (see Neoclassicism)
  - neuroeconomics, 322–334
  - pedagogy of, 215–219
  - philosophical approach to, 2–3
  - picoeconomics, 337–353
  - as practical art, 2, 74–75, 150, 215–216
  - and prediction, 312
  - production aspect of, 73
  - relationship to other disciplines of, 2, 71
  - as science, 1–2, 312
  - as separate discipline, 9, 71–73, 80–82, 90–93, 114–119, 215, 218–219
  - theory and practice in, 215–216
  - theory in, 141–142, 215–216
  - undergraduate instruction in, 216–219
- Edgeworth, Francis, 82
- EGT. See Evolutionary game theory
- Einstein, Albert, 22
- “Elephant in the road” example, 43–44, 52–54, 61
- Eliminativism
- agency and, 257–258
  - from behavioral economics to, 190–211
  - on beliefs, 63
  - and biology, 366–368
  - criticisms of, 50–52
  - disunity of science and, 60
  - economics and, 51, 207
  - and “elephant in the road” example, 53–54
  - vs. folk psychology, 190–192
  - formulation of, 192
  - game theory and, 193–194
  - humanism vs., 190–192
  - internalism vs., 45–46, 48–49
  - and metaphysics, 56
  - on propositional attitudes, 190–197, 207
  - and Quine, 229
  - rationality and, 192–193, 196–197, 205, 353–354, 357
- Elster, J., 299
- Emergentism, 60
- Emotional signaling, 297–311
- Empirical adaptationism, 359–360, 364–369
- Empiricism
- philosophical arguments and, 123–124
  - sensationalism and, 77–78
- Entropy, 66–67
- Epstein, S., 177
- Equilibrium in beliefs, 201, 203
- Essentialism, 20
- EUT. See Expected utility theory
- Evolution. See Natural selection
- Evolutionary behavioral science. See Evolutionary psychology
- Evolutionary game theory (EGT)
- biology and, 364–369
  - on choice, 198
  - on propositional attitudes, 194, 196–199
  - on rationality, 198, 356–358
  - replicator dynamics, 208
  - social models in, 283
  - and unity of behavioral sciences, 205
- Evolutionary psychology, 19, 384–385
- Evolutionary stable strategy set (ESS), 295–296
- Executive function, in complex systems, 233–235, 261–264
- Existence, real patterns and, 68–69
- Expectations, philosophical notion of beliefs compared to, 37
- Expected utility theory (EUT), 169, 174–177, 354
- Expected utility theory with rank-dependent probabilities, 177
- Experimental economics, 122, 125, 139, 167–190
- early supporters and critics of, 168–169
  - extended utility theory, 174–176
  - judgment heuristics, 170–172

- natural statistical competence, 172–174 preference inconsistencies over time, 182–185 preference reversals, 177–181 rationality as concept in, 193 rationality in market aggregation, 189–190
- Explanatory adaptationism, 358–370
 Exponential discounting, 182–183
 Externalism, intentional-stance
   functionalism and, 49–50
- Face-to-face communication, 303
 Faculty introspectionism, 227–228
 Family-planning behavior, utility analysis of, 151–153
 Ferejohn, J., 195
 Fertility. See Family-planning behavior, utility analysis of Financial asset markets, 390
 Fisher, Irving, 83–84
 Flaming (in electronic communication), 303
 Fodor, J., 47–48, 52–54
 Folk theories of agency, 237–239 of behavior, 25, 37
   eliminativism vs., 190–192
   of emotion, 308–310
   inadequacy of, 16–19, 22, 32–33
   of intentionality, 38 of introspection, 229–231 judgment based on, 172
   language and, 23
   about reality, 163–165
   of self, 159, 236, 275
   of sincerity, 308–310
Foundations of Economic Analysis
   (Samuelson), 100–101
 Frame problem, 233, 287
 Frank, R., 297–315, 351
 Friedman, Michael, 31, 88
 Friedman, Milton, 64, 109, 147, 167–168, 189, 194, 264, 312
   methodology of, 160–163, 168
 Friendship, 301
 “Fruit basket at dinner table” example,
   128, 133–134, 136–137
 Functionalism
   computational, 42
   criticisms of, 43–44
   intentionality in, 40–42 intentional-stance, 44
   internalism vs., 44–45
   Turing-machine, 42
- Game determination, 291–297 emotional signaling as example of, 297–311
- Games
   analysis of, 291–297
   coordination (see Coordination games) social animals and, 272–275 social context for, 293–294
- Game theory, 199, 200, 202. See also Evolutionary game theory; Nash equilibrium behavior characterization using, 206
   and eliminativism, 193–194
   and industrial organization theory, 373 intentional-stance functionalism on, 363–366
   and logrolling dynamics, 188
   rationality and, 199–204
   refinement programs in, 201–204
   self and, 271–315
   and strategic reasoning, 199
   systematicity of, 315
 General equilibrium, 8
 Generalized expected utility analysis, 177
- Gilovich, T., 351
 Gintis, H., 194, 196–198, 204, 205, 210, 215, 315–316, 363–364, 368, 380
 Glimcher, P., 319, 322–334, 338, 368
 Goal conflicts, 252
 Gödel, Kurt, 171
 Gödel’s incompleteness theorem, 8
 Godfrey-Smith, P., 248, 358–360
 Gould, S. J., 368
 Greenspan, P., 302
 Grether, D., 177
 Griffin, D., 178
G’-type games, 292–293, 301–303
- Hacking, Ian, 22
 Hampton, J., 298, 308
 Hausman, Daniel, 71, 98, 112, 127, 136, 215
 Hayek, F., 233
 Hedonism, sensationalistic, 77, 85
 Heilbroner, R., 312
 Heinrich, J., 314
 Herrnstein, R., 183, 184

- Heuristics domain-specific, misapplication of, 172 full theory of, 173 judgment, 170–172
 Hicks, John, 86, 97–98
 Historicism, 88
 Historiography postmodern, 3–6
   whiggish, 3–4, 15
 History of economics, 73–114 ancient Greece and Rome, 74–75
   Bentham and sensationalism, 75–79
   classical political economy, 76 contemporary situation, 114–119 early neoclassicism, 79–87
   neoclassical origins, 77–79
   Robbins and positivism, 87–100
   Samuelson and behaviorism, 100–114
 Hobbes, Thomas, 292, 308
 Hollis, M., 313
 Houthakker, Hendrik, 107, 109
 Humanism and agency, 239, 251, 256
   criticism of, 214 dismissal of, 229
   in economics, 45–46
   eliminativism vs., 190–192
   vs. neoclassicism, 124–127, 148, 188 renewal of, 269–270
   RPT criticized by, 126–140
   scientism vs., 16–30, 119
 Hume, David, 31, 76–78, 97, 115, 187, 225
 Hutchins, E., 261
 Hutchison, Terence, 88
 Hyperbolic discounting, 183, 337, 346, 348

 Indifference curves, 82–84, 86, 104
 Individual. See Personhood; Self;
   Subjective experience
 Individualism, 213–233
   economic, 221, 223, 232, 305–306
   methodological, 220–221
   microeconomic (see Individualism, economic) neoclassicism and concept of, 207–210 normative, 221
   Robinson Crusoe model of economics and, 216–219
   social atomism, 221–223
 Industrial organization theory, 373 Information
   measurability of, 66–67 metaphysical status of, 64–65
   natural selection and, 371–372
   redundancy of, 259–260 role in judgment of, 170–172 storage in environment of, 260–261 and unity of science, 67–68
 Insanity, 286
 Insects, 95–96, 251–253, 256
 Inspection games, 326–329
 Institutional economics, 125, 139, 219
 Instrumentalism, 64, 160–163, 168 Intelligence cooperation/competition and, 274–275
   sociality and, 272–273
 Intentionality, 35–52
   common meaning of, 36–37
   Dennett on, 38, 44, 49–50, 52–54, 61
   economic application of, 37–38
   eliminativism, 45–46, 48–52
   functionalism, 40–45
   internalism, 41, 44–49
   logical behaviorism, 40 mind and brain, 39–40
   natural evolution of, 43
   nonintentional subsystems and, 335–336
   philosophical approach to, 37
   real patterns and, 61–63
   triangulation and, 49–50, 361 Intentional-stance functionalism and agency, 255
   as behaviorism, 137
   and “elephant in the road” example, 61
   explanatory adaptationism and, 360–364 and game theory, 363–366
   internalism vs., 44, 49–50
   metaphysics and, 63–64 methodological vs. ontological, 336–337, 339, 343–344
   multiple-drafts model of consciousness and, 233, 264–265
   rationality and, 357–358
 Interests, long-, medium-, and short-term, 337–342
 Internalism, 46–47, 62, 361
   and “elephant in the road” example, 53
   Frank’s emotional signaling model and, 297–311
   functionalism and, 44–45, 361
   metaphysical, 48–49
   preferences and, 135
   Sen and, 133, 135

- Intersubjectivity. See also Complex sociality; Culture
 intentionality and, 61
 objectivity validated through, 24
 Robinson Crusoe model of economics and, 217–219
- Intertheoretic reductionism, 55–57
- Introspection analysis of choice and, 91–92 consciousness and, 228–231, 230
 faculty introspectionism, 227–228
 inadequacy of, 226–232
 intentional stance vs., 61
 Locke and, 225
 Robbins and, 126, 209, 213–214, 225–227, 262
- Jaynes, Julian, 73
- Jevons, William Stanley, 29, 79–81, 126, 129, 141, 382
- Judd, Kenneth, 9, 171, 389–390
- Judgment. See also Choice; Decision making common errors in, 172 content of consciousness as, 236 heuristics for, 170–172
- Judgment heuristics, 170–172
- Kagel, J., 122
- Kahneman, Daniel, 168, 175, 178
- Kalai, E., 12
- Kant, Immanuel, 187, 225–227, 406n3
- Karni, E., 177–178
- Kavka, Gregory, 352
- Keller, E., 5, 6, 275
- Kennedy, J., 392
- Keynes, John Maynard, 269, 319, 374
- Kim, J., 48–49
- Kincaid, Harold, 223, 381
- Kin selection, 307
- Kirby, K., 183
- Kitcher, Philip, 31, 144–147
- Kreps, D., 105–106, 199–203
- Kripke, Saul, 47
- Ladyman, J., 222
- Language games constrained by, 296 mathematical vs. natural, 23–24
 mind and, 62
 private, 286 public-language systems, 300
 self and, 285–289, 349
- Lawson, T., 118, 312
- Lewis, Alain, 9, 171, 390–391
- Lewis, D., 273
- Lewontin, R., 368
- Lichtenstein, S., 177
- Lloyd, D., 248, 264
- Locke, John, 223, 225
- Locus of behavioral control agent as, 251 central, 381 inner vs. outer, 258–265 for multi-person agency, 254
- Loewenstein, G., 183
- Logical behaviorism, 40
- Logical empiricism, 56–57
- Logrolling, among preferences or interests, 186, 340–342
- Loomes, G., 179
- Louis XIV, 347
- Luce, D., 109
- Lyons, W., 226–228, 231
- MacCrimmon, K., 177
- Machiavellian intelligence, 275, 349
- Machina, M., 177
- Macroeconomics, 290–291, 316, 318–320, 345, 353, 380–381
- Mäki, U., 161–163
- Malthus, Thomas Robert, 76
- Management science, 315
- Mandler, M., 79, 80, 84, 97, 112
- Marginal principle and indifference curves, 82–84, 86, 104 psychology of behavior and, 79–80
- Marginal substitutability, 97–99
- Marginal utility, 80, 83–84
- Market aggregation, 189–190
- Market microstructure theory, 372–373, 375
- Market types, computation and, 14–15
- Marr, David, 324, 330, 332
- Marras, A., 48
- Marshall, Alfred, 81, 126, 373–374, 382
- Marx, Karl, 76, 126, 269, 380–381
- Matching hypothesis, 178–179, 184
- Mathematics, 23–24
- Maximization
 eliminativism and, 207, 210, 355
 utilitarianism and, 77
- Maynard Smith, John, 295
- McClamrock, R., 48
- McFarland, David, 253, 372–373
- McGeer, V., 284

- MDM. See Multiple-drafts model of consciousness
- Meaning, social context for, 47–48
- Meikle, Scott, 74–75
- Mental states, 39–40
- Mereology, 52–61
 definition of, 54
 progressive simplification and, 54, 57–59
 reductionism and, 55–61, 67–68
- Metaphysics
 intentional-stance functionalism and, 63–64
 reductionism and, 55–57
 unity of reality and, 54
- Methodological adaptationism, 359–360, 369
- Methodological behaviorism, 227–228
- Methodological individualism, 220–221
- Methodological solipsism, 47–48
- “Methodology of Positive Economics” (Friedman), 160
- Microeconomic individualism. See Economic individualism
- Microeconomics, 290–291, 316, 318–320, 345, 353, 378–381
- Midlife crisis, 294
- Milberg, W., 312
- Mill, John Stuart, 71, 76
- Millikan, Ruth, 360
- Mind. See also Brain; Consciousness brain and, 259
 as construct of behavior patterns, 40
 eliminativism on, 191
 and interpretation, 259
 natural evolution of, 43
 pre-twentieth-century notions of, 39
 as program, 42
 thought experiment on constructing, 61–62
- Mirowski, Philip, 5–16, 35, 40, 192, 214, 229, 234, 370–371 on classical political economists, 76 on economics and cognitive science, 6–16, 27, 70, 117–118, 171, 387–394 future of economics according to, 8–15, 387–394
 as humanist, 45–46, 270 on neoclassical economists, 84, 101 as postmodern historiographer, 4–6, 14
- Modularization, 287
- Money
 Aristotelian value and, 75 indifference curves and, 83
 Robinson Crusoe model and, 216
 self and, 350–351
- Money-pump arguments, 180–181, 245–246, 346–351
- Monkeys, inspection game with, 326–329, 332–333
- Montague, P. R., 322, 329, 338
- Morality agency and, 240–242, 248–249
 cognitive science and, 26
 economics and, 26
- Morgenstern, Oskar, 5, 113, 354. See also von Neumann–Morgenstern (VNM) utility
- Multiple-drafts model of consciousness (MDM), 233–236, 264–265, 323–324
- Nagel, Thomas, 18, 22
- Narrative, 285–286, 347–350
- Nash, John, 5
- Nash equilibrium (NE) evolutionary stable strategy set and, 295
 game theory and, 199–204, 206
 von Neumann’s game theory vs., 5, 8
- Naturalism, 36, 115
- Naturalized moral psychology, 242, 257
- Natural selection adaptationism and, 358–360 as mindless designer, 43 as problem solving, 366–369 reverse engineering and, 370 selves and, 321–353
 tautology objection against, 144–147
- Natural statistical competence, 172–174
- NE. See Nash equilibrium
- Neoclassicism
 anthropocentric, 154–157, 181–182, 184–185, 213–214 defense of, 28–29, 329–330 evolutionary psychology and, 275–276 evolution of self and, 351 history of, 73–114, 382
 humanism vs., 124–127, 148, 188
 individualism as concept in, 207–210 matrix of chief neoclassicists, 154 mature, 148–166
 and metaphysics, 210
 science–folk theory tension in, 101
- Neural firing, expected utility and, 327–329
- Neuroeconomics, 322–334, 392

- Neuroscience, connectionism and, 62–63
 Normative individualism, 221
 Nussbaum, Martha, 240
- Objectivity, 24
 Operational behaviorism, 40
 Oppenheim, Paul, 57–58 Optimization, as central concept in economics, 6–7, 26
 Ordinalism, 79, 97–98
 Ormerod, Paul, 168
 Oyama, S., 275
- Pain. See Pleasure/pain
 Pareto, Vilfredo, 84 Patterns. See Real patterns
 Pavlov, Ivan, 323
 PD. See Prisoner's dilemma (PD)
 Peacocke, C., 248–249
 Pedagogy, 215–219, 388
 Personhood
   agency and, 132, 237–258, 256, 320–353
   long- and short-term interest bargaining
   as, 350–351
 Pettit, Phillip, 195, 286 Philosophy of science, and interdisciplinarity, 30–31
 Picoeconomics, 337–353
 Pinker, Steven, 300, 334, 384
 Plato, 243–244, 280 Pleasure/pain higher vs. lower, 81, 129
   as source of activity, 77
 Plott, C., 177
 Policy, macroeconomics and, 319
 Ponce, V., 59
 Popper, Karl, 221
 Positivism abandonment of Kantian foundations by, 102–103, 115, 164 concept of science in, 88–89, 90
   and introspection, 227
   meaning according to, 24 of 1930s and economic theory reform, 85–87
   preservation of aspects of, 116, 118–119
   Robbins and foundations of, 87–100
   Samuelson and behaviorism, 100–114
 Postmodern historiography, 3–6 Preferences. See also Choice; Decision making; Revealed preference theory acyclical, 99, 180–181 and choice, in Samuelson, 104–106, 135 cyclical, 180–181 factors external to, Sen on, 128–130, 133
   inconsistencies in, 182–185
   reversals in, 156, 177–181 similarity to philosophical notion of desires of, 37 time and, 182–185
   transitivity of, 94
 Prisoner's dilemma (PD) identifying instances of, 131–132 infrequency of, 298–299, 308
   long- and short-term interest bargaining
   as, 340–341
   Sen on agency in, 130–131
 Private language, 286 Problem solving explanatory adaptationism and, 363
   history of life as, 367–369
   Robbins–Samuelson strategy for, 147–148
   science as, 146
 Production, 73
 Progress, 3–4
 Propositional attitudes
   eliminativism on, 45, 190–197, 207
   evolutionary game theory on, 194, 196–199
   intentionality and, 37, 49
   intentional-stance functionalism on, 361–364 as mereological danglers, 55 refinement of, 61 and representation, 41
 Prospect theory, 175
 Proxies, 153
 Psychological concavity, 97–99 Psychology. See also Experimental economics
   Bentham and, 79
   economics and, 19, 73, 79–80, 167, 197–198, 215, 384–385
   evolutionary, 19, 384–385
   Humean, 78
   Robbins on, 89–92
 Ptolemaic science, 175–176
 Putnam, Hilary, 42, 47, 57–58, 115
- Qualia, 231
 Quiggin, J., 177
 Quine, W. V. O., 36, 96, 103, 110–111, 115, 123, 164–165, 229, 244

- Random lottery selection (RLS) procedure, 177
- Rapaport, A., 183
- Rational choice theory, 90
- “Rational fools,” 149–150
- Rationality. See also Choice; Decision making; Preferences and classical epistemic virtues, 243–244 eliminativism on concept of, 192–193, 196–197, 205
 evolutionary game theory and, 198, 356–358
 experimental economics and, 193
 explanatory adaptationism and, 358–369
 game theory and, 199–204
 in market aggregation, 189–190
 Robbins on, 93–94
- Ray, Thomas, 372
- Reagan, Ronald, 347
- Realism
 as assumed, 21–22, 57
 Friedman and, 161–163
 and metaphysics, 56
 scientific vs. commonsense, 163–165
- Reality
 objective character of, 21
 real patterns and, 68–69
 science and, 16–17
- Real patterns, 61–70
 intentionality and, 61–63
 selves as, 281–282
- Reductionism
 criticisms of, 58–59
 economics and, 58
 intertheoretic, 55–57
 mereological, 55–61, 67–68
- Reference, 47
- Refinement program, 201–204
- Regan, D., 351
- Reichenbach, Hans, 31, 66, 118
- Replicator dynamics, 208
- Representation, functionalism and, 41
- Revealed preference theory (RPT), 104–114
 agency and, 245–247
 agency in, Sen’s criticism of, 128–129, 133–134
 experimental economics and, 167–190 philosophical justifications for, 100 problem-solving strategy role of, 147–148
 self and, 111–112
 Sen’s criticism of, 126–140
 systematicity of, 315
 usefulness of, 150–166 utility in, 108–109
- Reverse engineering, as epistemological procedure, 369–370
- Ricardo, David, 76, 126
- Ritzman, R., 252
- Road rage, 303
- Robbins, Lionel, 79, 87–100, 123, 157, 167, 382 basis of economics for, 89
 on beliefs, 194
 on economics as separate science, 90–93 economics defined by, 87
 and introspection, 126, 209, 213–214, 225–227, 229, 245, 262
 Robbins–Samuelson argument pattern, 147–148, 377–381
 Samuelson vs., 228
 on self in economics, 126, 187
- Robbins–Samuelson argument pattern, 147–148, 377–381
- Robinson Crusoe model of economics, 216–219, 388
 of self, 294, 309, 352
- Robots, 372–373
- Rome, economics in ancient, 74
- Rosenberg, Alex, 98, 142, 168, 195–197, 215, 354, 357, 380
- Roth, A., 122
- RPT. See Revealed preference theory
- Ruskin, John, 386
- Ryle, Gilbert, 40, 96, 258–259
- Safra, Z., 177–178
- Salmon, Wesley, 31, 66–67
- Samuelson, Paul, 40, 156, 164–165, 167–168, 209, 224, 229, 382
 on agency, 245
 and behaviorism, 100–114
 on beliefs, 194
 contemporary behavior theory and, 355–356
 criticisms of, 123
 positivism of, 103
 purity of analysis by, 101–102, 121
 Robbins–Samuelson argument pattern, 147–148, 377–381
 Robbins vs., 228
 Sen’s criticism of RPT, 126–140
- Santa Fe Institute, 12

- Sartre, Jean-Paul, 408n7, n8
- Satz, D., 195
- Say, Jean-Baptiste, 76
- Scaffolding
- child development and, 284
  - of information, 260–264
  - language and, 286–287
- Scarcity
- as basic economic concept, 377
  - behavior and, 195
  - Robinson Crusoe model and, 216
- Scarf, H., 9
- Schelling, Thomas, 187, 273, 319
- Schizophrenia, 289
- Schlick, Moritz, 90, 118
- Schumpeter, Joseph, 221
- Science. See also Scientism
- domain invisibility in, 73–74
  - on nature of reality, 16–17
  - philosophy of science vs., 145–147
  - progress in, through simplification, 57–59
  - regulative ideal of, 22–23
  - structures of nature as object of, 67
  - unity of, 60, 67, 115, 311–312
- Scientism, humanism vs., 16–30, 119
- Searle, John, 18, 43, 242–243
- Self. See also Agency; Personhood;
- Subjective experience
  - biological origins of, 347–352
  - as community of agents (see Agency: multiple)
  - consistency of (see stability of)
  - construction of, 12, 279–280, 283–284, 287–289
  - coordination games and, 282–284
  - cultural solidifying of, 289
  - Dennett on, 12–13, 279–290
  - economics and, 26, 44–45, 117–118, 122, 125, 126–127, 132, 148–149, 154–158, 207
  - as executive, critique of, 233–235
  - fictional character as, 279–281, 286
  - folk psychology of, 159, 236, 275
  - game theory and, 271–315
  - humanistic vs. scientific view of, 26
  - Humean vs. Kantian, 187
  - identity of (see stability of)
  - individual and, 187–188
  - language and, 285–289, 349
  - modern philosophy on, 224–226
  - money and, 350–351
  - motivations of, analyzing, 173–174
  - narrative and, 347–350
  - natural selection and, 321–353
  - neoclassicism and evolution of, 351
  - neuroeconomics and, 322–334
  - picoeconomics and, 337–353
  - as real pattern, 281–282
  - and RPT, 111–112
  - as society of agents, 185–186
  - sociological function of, 347
  - as solution to cultural problems, 363
  - stability of, 155–156, 158–159, 182–185, 225, 228, 282–283, 294, 351–352
- Selten's horse game, 201–202, 202, 204
- Semantic externalism, 24
- Semi-Aristotelianism, 81, 148–149
- Sen, Amartya, 123, 124, 126–141, 149, 188, 221, 240, 269, 314–315
- Sensationalism, 77–79, 85
- Sequential equilibrium, 203–204
- Servosystematicity, 248–250
- Seyfarth, R., 274
- Shannon, C., 65
- Sherrington, Arthur, 323
- Shizgal, P., 338
- Sigmund, Karl, 196, 198
- Signaling moves, 295
- emotional signaling, 297–311
- Simon, Herbert E., 10, 155, 170, 391–392
- Simulations, 10–11
- Skyrms, B., 274, 293, 365
- Slovic, P., 177, 178
- Smith, Adam, 76, 126, 193, 269
- Smith, Vernon, 168, 190
- Sober, E., 308
- Social atomism, 221–223
- Social complexity. See Complex sociality
- Social intelligence, 272–273
- Social relations network. See Complex sociality; Intersubjectivity
- Sphex wasp, 348
- Spinoza, Baruch, 194
- Spurrett, David, 314, 348
- Starmer, C., 178, 179
- Statistics, and natural statistical competence, 172–174
- Stein, E., 154–155
- Stich, Stephen, 244
- “Stock market/rate change” example, 64–65, 67–68
- Strangers, coordination games of, 292–293
- Structure, definition of, 67

- Subjective experience, controversy over, 17–19. See also Brain; Intentionality; Internalism; Introspection; Mind; Self
- Subjectivism
 Bentham and, 77
 concepts of, 76–77
 metaphysical, 138
 value and, 76–77
- Subpersonal agency, 323, 330–332, 339–340, 343
- Sugden, R., 178, 179, 181, 196–198, 204, 207–210, 215, 269, 353–358, 364, 366, 368, 373–374, 380
- Sutton, J., 373
- Swarm intelligence models, 391–392
- System
 definition of, 21–22
 requirements for, 23–25
 science as, 382–383
- Tautology problem regarding utility, 81, 129, 139–148
- Taylor, C., 179
- Taylor, Charles, 225, 250
- Team utility, 313–314
- Thagard, P., 147
- Thaler, Richard, 141, 178–179, 183, 190
- Thatcher, Margaret, 217, 218
- Theory, meanings of, 141–142, 168–169
- Thurstone, L. L., 167
- Time natural selection and, 373–374
 preference and, 182–185
- Tooby, J., 334, 384
- Triangulation, intentionality and, 49–50, 361
- Truth essentialism and, 20–21
 functionalism vs. eliminativism on, 53–55
- Turing-machine functionalism, 42
- Tversky, A., 175, 177–178
- Utilitarianism, 77, 85–87
- Utility
 agency and, 129–130, 137
 behavioral vs. psychological interpretation of, 207–208
 eliminativism and, 207, 210
 neural firing and, 327–329 of organisms, 324–325 team, 313–314
 VNM, 113
 well-being vs., 127
- Utility analysis
 Becker and, 150–159
 Samuelson and, 108–109
 Sen on, 126–140
- Value ancient vs. modern concepts of, 75–76
 subjectivism about, 76–77
- Verificationism, 116
- VNM utility. See von Neumann–Morgenstern (VNM) utility
- von Mises, Ludwig, 267
- von Neumann, John, 5, 8, 14–15, 113, 354, 393
- von Neumann–Morgenstern (VNM) utility, 113, 169
- Wallace, D., 222–223
- Wallis, W. Allen, 109, 167–168
- Walras, Leon, 29–30
- Welfare, economics of 1930s and, 85
- Well-being minimum threshold of, Sen on, 138 utility vs., 127
- Whiggish historiography, 3–4, 15
- Wicksteed, Philip, 81
- Will, 257
- Williams, Bernard, 250
- Wilson, D., 308
- Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 48, 96, 286
- Yaari, M., 177
- Yagil, J., 183
- Young, H. P., 373–374
- Zeno's paradoxes, 185