

Index

- Aerospace industry. See Space program
- Aesthetics of technology, 53, 60–62, 143–145, 191n49
- Alternative technical cultures, 12–14, 17–18, 52–54, 73, 155–157, 162. See also Technical culture
- Amateurism, 12, 75, 88–93. See also Professionals, amateurs' relationship to
- American Radio Relay League (ARRL), xvi, 6, 20–21, 29–30, 96–97, 99–103, 110–117
- Behavioral norms of the ham radio community. See also Linguistic practices of the ham radio community; Masculinity of ham radio; Moral lessons from ham radio; Values associated with technology regarding modes of sociability, 30–36 regarding personality traits and personal behaviors, 19–21, 28–29, 48, 70–72, 83, 91–92, 144–145, 150–151, 155–156, 160
- Black-boxed technology, 10–11, 64, 73, 148–150, 158. See also Engagement with technology; Interactive technology
- Boyhood technical activities, 4, 9–10, 13, 15–16
- ham radio, 43–44, 120–122, 136, 139–141
- Broadcast radio listening, xi, 52–54
- Building radio equipment. See Construction of radio equipment
- Careers of radio hobbyists. See Employment of radio hobbyists
- Citizens' Band (CB) radio, 27, 39, 153, 155–157, 170n17
- Civil defense (peacetime), 42, 108–117, 187n48
- Civilian defense (wartime), 101–103
- Clubs
- ham radio, 33–36, 40–44, 47–48, 80, 84–85, 91, 115–116, 132, 158
  - technical hobby, 4–6, 8–10
- Cold War context, xiii, 37, 48, 75, 93, 95, 103–110, 114–117, 120–122, 125, 141–142. See also Subversive activity
- Computers and ham radio, 154, 156–160
- Confirmation postcards (QSLs), 21, 30–33, 52, 105, 129, 159
- Construction of radio equipment, 9, 36–37, 39–40, 43–44, 49–53, 63–66, 147–150. See also Engagement with technology; Expense of ham radio; Kits; Modification

Index

- Cost of ham radio. See Expense of ham radio
- Demographics of the ham radio
community, xii, 36, 80–81, 103, 123, 131, 142
- Domestic architecture. See Household space
- Domestic conflict. See Family roles and responsibilities; Marital relationships
- Educational value of radio, xii, 43, 50, 78–82, 89–91, 120–122. See also Learning by doing; Technical lessons from manufacturers
- Electronics industry, 58, 75–83, 85, 147, 154–155, 160–161. See also Radio industry; Space program
- Emergency communications service of radio hobbyists, 42, 85, 115–117, 186–187n46. See also Civil defense; Civilian defense
- Employment of radio hobbyists, 59, 78–89, 92–93, 120–122, 154, 157, 159. See also Educational value of radio; Military service of radio hobbyists
- ham radio communities near technical employers, 58–59, 80, 83–85, 87
- Engagement with technology, 3, 10, 14–15, 17–18, 39, 43, 46, 48–50, 52–54, 57, 60–66, 70–73, 83, 89–91, 148–151, 157–159. See also Interactive technology; Learning by doing
- Equipment for ham radio, x, 25, 123–124, 136. See also Construction of radio equipment; Electronics industry; Interactive technology; Radio industry; Shacks
- Espionage. See Subversive activity
- Expense of ham radio, xii, 50, 59, 68–69, 81, 84–85, 89, 105, 123–124, 142–143, 147, 149
- Family roles and responsibilities, 31, 119–125, 132–135, 138–141, 143, 145–146. See also Marital relationships
- Fatherhood. See Family roles and responsibilities
- Federal Communications Commission (FCC). See Regulation of radio
- Ham radio, origin of name, xvii
- Hi-tech
lure of, 51–52, 72, 78, 85, 147, 159, 161
shifting status as, 37, 64, 66, 85, 93, 147, 154–155, 159, 161
- Hobbies as a distinct form of leisure, 1–3, 10–11, 49, 52–54. See also Amateurism; Technical hobbies
- Hobby publications, xvi–xvii, 9, 35–36, 50, 63–64, 79, 91–92, 109, 157–158
- Household space, 119, 136–143, 145–146, 190n39
- Identification with technology, 6, 7–8, 13–14, 16–17, 44–46, 48, 83, 85–88, 93, 112–113, 119, 145–146, 149–154, 160–162. See also Behavioral norms of the ham radio community
- Identity of technology, 4, 7–8, 13–14, 16–18, 36, 48, 53–54, 93, 117, 119, 145–146, 149–156, 158, 160–162. See also Amateurism; Masculinity of ham radio; Values associated with technology
- Integrated circuits (ICs), 51, 60, 66, 72, 147–150, 152–154, 156–157, 160–161

- Interactive technology, 6, 10–11, 48–50, 53–54, 60–66, 70–73, 148–152, 157–158, 160. See also Engagement with technology; Learning by doing
- Interference, xiii–xiv, 26, 30, 40, 61, 119–120, 124–125, 133, 136, 155, 186n43
- Jobs of radio hobbyists. See Employment of radio hobbyists
- Kits, 66–73, 122, 148–153, 177n38. See also Construction of radio equipment
- Learning by doing, 9, 13, 43, 50–51, 64, 68, 70–72, 89–91, 121–122, 148–149, 158. See also Educational value of radio; Engagement with technology; Interactive technology; Moral lessons from ham radio
- Linguistic practices of the ham radio community, 23–30, 35–36, 91, 128. See also Behavioral norms of the ham radio community
- Magazines. See Hobby publications
- Manufacturers of radio equipment and supplies. See Radio industry
- Marital relationships, 44, 122, 137, 145–146. See also Family roles and responsibilities
- Masculinity of ham radio, 4, 25–26, 31, 36–48, 85–86, 96, 98–99, 126, 128, 136, 139, 152, 154, 160. See also Identity of technology; Sexuality of radio hobbyists
- Military service of radio hobbyists, xii, 55, 78–80, 87, 95, 101, 103, 114, 154, 161
- Military use of radio, 25, 55–57, 88, 95–96, 101, 103–104, 114, 154, 160
- surplus equipment, 57–58, 69, 131
- Modification, 11, 57–58, 61–62, 72, 131, 152. See also Interactive technology; Tinkering
- Moral lessons from ham radio, 43, 70–72, 120–121, 150–151, 160. See also Behavioral norms of the ham radio community; Learning by doing
- Morse code, 21–27, 46, 65, 126, 156, 158–159, 188n17
- NASA. See Space program
- Neighbors, conflicts with, xiii–xiv, 17, 40, 109, 115–117, 120, 128, 142, 186n43. See also Public relations; Subversive activity
- Newsletters. See Hobby publications
- Nostalgia, technological, 57, 149–154, 160, 181n31, 192n6
- Number of amateur radio licensees, ix, xvii, 54, 57–58, 60, 156–157, 159. See also Employment of radio hobbyists, ham radio communities near technical employers; Regulation of radio
- Personal independence, 89, 119, 122–125, 133, 146. See also Family roles and responsibilities
- Privacy. See Personal independence
- Professionals, amateurs' relationship to, 11–13, 51, 70, 75, 81, 88–93, 154–155, 166n3
- Public relations, 20, 42, 48, 85–87, 95–100, 103, 109–117, 132–133, 145, 156, 182n4
- Q signals, 26–27
- QSLs. See Confirmation postcards
- Radio industry, 37, 52–60, 68–69, 73, 84. See also Electronics industry

Index

- Regulation of radio, 21–22, 26, 28, 56–57, 78, 95–97, 100–107, 117, 155, 157. See also Number of amateur radio licensees
- Self-policing. See Surveillance
- Sexuality of radio hobbyists, 31, 37–38, 44, 122, 125–130, 133, 135. See also Marital relationships
- Shacks, ham radio, x–xi, 31–32, 136–146
- Social integration, 152–154, 156, 160. See also Masculinity of ham radio
- Space program, 48, 75, 79, 85–88, 93, 121, 154, 156–157
- Split identities of ham radio and of radio hobbyists, 49, 73, 75, 89, 92–93, 95, 103, 117, 119, 122–125, 136, 145–146, 181n26
- Spying. See Subversive activity
- Stations, ham radio. See Shacks
- Subversive activity, actual and suspect, 37–38, 101–107, 154–156. See also Cold War context
- Surplus equipment. See Military use of radio
- Surveillance, 20–21, 28–29, 100–101, 104–106, 184n19
- Technical change
effect on hobby radio, 37, 60, 64–66, 70, 72, 85, 147–149, 151–155, 157–160
process of, 13–16, 54, 161
- Technical culture, 13–17, 48, 53–54, 75–78, 154, 160–162. See also Alternative technical cultures; Cold War context; Identification with technology; Identity of technology defined, xv, 7
- Technical hobbies, 1–18, 49, 52–54, 57, 89–90, 120–122. See also Hobbies as a distinct form of leisure categorization of, 1–3
- Technical identity. See Identification with technology; Identity of technology; Split identities of ham radio and of radio hobbyists
- Technical lessons from manufacturers, 62–66, 148
- Technical mastery, 39–40, 49, 51, 72, 78, 85–86, 88–89, 96, 154–155, 160–161
- Television viewing, 59, 77, 124, 126. See also Interference
- Tinkering, 8, 43, 50, 54, 70, 72, 83, 89–91, 149. See also Engagement with technology; Interactive technology; Modification
- Values associated with technology, 2, 17–18, 36, 70–72, 92, 149–151, 155–156, 158, 160, 168n34. See also Behavioral norms of the ham radio community; Technical culture
- Women radio hobbyists, 25–26, 36, 40–42, 44–48, 128, 131–132, 165n6. See also Masculinity of ham radio