A(rgumental)-chain, 247, 253–257, 265,	Argument from the poverty of the stimulus,
268 nontrivial, 256, 258–259	5, 17 Argument structure $2,82,88, 104, 248
A-movement, 246, 255	Argument structure, 82–83, 88, 104, 348–349, 353
Ā-binding, 154–155, 157, 167, 169, 232–	Association, 13–17, 392
235, 237, 273	Associative principle, 75
Ā-movement, 273	Auxiliaries, 106–107, 131–132, 137, 164,
Act-out task, 261, 300–301, 349–350	190
Adverbs of quantification, 314, 318, 332,	English, 118, 191, 194, 197, 242
334–335	and I-to-C movement, 193–201
Agreement, 255	and null subjects, 162
errors, 121–122, 125–126	in SLI, 380–381
failure to express, 379	Auxiliary selection, 259
feature, 123	Axiom on clausal representation, 142, 166,
in the (intermediate) CP, 213, 216-220,	205
236, 242	Auxless questions, 202-206, 208, 241
morphemes, 120-121, 127
specifier-head, 124, 134, 160, 214–215,	Babbling, 47–52
217–218, 236, 242	canonical, 49–50
Ambient language. See Linguistic	and language capacity, 51
environment	manual, 47, 50–51, 146
American Sign Language (ASL), 4, 16, 20,	in signed and spoken languages, 51
320–321, 324. See also Sign languages	variegated, 49
Anaphor(a), 247, 266, 278. See also	vocal, 47–50, 146
Binding; Coreference backward, 300–303, 308	and word production, 52
backward, and principle C, 300–303	Bare (verbal) form, 106, 134, 139–140, 145, 202–203, 380. See also Optional
forward, 300–301, 303, 305, 310	infinitive; Root infinitive
forward, and Principle C, 306–308	in SLI, 379
Anaphoric interpretation of the pronoun,	Bellugi, U., 197, 202, 398–400, 402
10, 278, 292–294, 297, 300–304, 390. See	Biases on word meaning, 77, 81
also Exophoric interpretation of the	mutual exclusivity, 77, 79
pronoun	taxonomic, 77–78
Anaphoric reading. See Anaphoric	whole object, 77, 79
interpretation of the pronoun	Binding, 272, 281, 292, 297, 302–305, 386,
Anaphoric relation, 278, 282–284, 291. See	403. See also Anaphor(a); Coreference
also Binding; Coreference	Principle A (see Principle A)
Antecedent, 273, 278, 280, 282–284, 286,	Principle B (see Principle B)
288–289, 291–292, 294–296, 298–302,	Principle C (see Principle C)
304–305, 309–310, 355. See also Binding	semantic, 281, 285, 296

grammatical, 96, 147, 183, 207, 209 Binding (cont.) syntactic, 272, 280, 282, 284, 295-296 on the identification of anaphoric tense, theory, 247, 280 141, 143 variable, 157, 231-232, 281-284, 297 innate, 90, 202, 291 Bishop, D. V. M., 376-378 on meaning, 8, 10 Blind children. See Linguistic environment Minimize Violations, 135, 137, 139 Bloom, P., 77, 79-80, 82, 96, 180, 289 structure-dependent, 300-301, 308 Tense, 133, 135-139 Bootstrapping, 55 of the lexicon, 58-63 (see also Lexicon) Uniqueness, 134-137, 144, 146 phonological, 55, 58-63, 91-92 on word meaning (see Biases on word prosodic (see phonological) meaning) semantic, 91, 94-96 Contact verbs, 86-87 syntactic (see Syntactic-cueing-of-verb-Continuity in development. See Continuity meaning hypothesis) of syntax, 90-96 view of language development (see also Phonological bootstrapping of Continuity view of language development, syntax; Semantic bootstrapping of 29, 147, 173, 183, 188, 239. See also Discontinuity in development Bound pronouns, 281, 296. See also Control. See also Empty operator; Anaphor(a); Anaphoric interpretation of Maturation the pronoun; Binding; Coreference in adjuncts, 349-351, 353, 355, 357, 361 Bound variable, 273, 275, 277, 280, 282, in complements, 349-351, 353, 357, 361, 306. See also Binding; Bound pronouns reading, 308 object, 348-349, 352, 355-356, 368-369 Boysson-Bardies, B. de, 44, 49, 52, 74 subject, 348-349, 352, 355, 357-358, 360, By-phrase, 247-249, 251-253, 261-268, 362, 368-369 402. See also Passives Control theory, 347-349. See also Control Copular constructions, 126 Caregiver's speech. See Linguistic Coreference, 282-284, 296-298, 300, 302, environment; see also Child-directed 304. See also Anaphor(a); Binding speech accidental, 281 Catalan, 25, 34, 36, 45, 120-121, 124, 129, vs. (variable) binding, 282, 305, 390 131, 137, 152 Correction by adults, 3. See also Negative Categorical perception, 41, 45-46 evidence Causative alternation (CS), 87–88 Correlation between syntax and semantics, Causative verbs, 84, 87 81-84. See also Syntactic-cueing-of-verb-Child-directed speech, 64, 81, 89, 265 meaning hypothesis Chinese, 51, 154–159, 190, 226 Covert movement, 104 Chomsky, N., 5, 12, 17-18, 72 Crain, S., 225-228, 264, 301, 306-307, Christophe, A., 36–38, 60, 65 320-321, 324, 335, 337-338, 342-343 Clahsen, H., 384-385, 400-405 Creole languages, 4, 16 Clausal truncation, 166-167, 170-172, 176, Critical period, 20-21 179, 183, 205-206, 242 Crossover, 168 strong (SCO), 168-169, 279-280, 283, Clitic pronoun, 127, 139, 143, 293, 396 subjects, 122-123, 131-132, 147, 255 306-307 Cognitive capacities, 375 weak (WCO), 168-169 autonomy of language from other, 399, Cross-sentential observation, 88 Conditioned head turn procedure, 42 Danish, 129, 151, 290 Default forms, 152, 240, 242, 283-284 Conjoined-clause analysis, 225, 228 Connectionism, 13-17, 404. See also Degenerate input, 16 Neural networks Dehaene-Lambertz, G., 25, 30, 40 Connectionist models. See Connectionism Deictic interpretation of the pronoun. See Constraint(s), 8-10, 17-18, 133-135, 163, Exophoric interpretation of the pronoun: 188-189, 219, 242 see also Anaphoric interpretation of the Checking, 134-135 pronoun on form, 8-9 Developmental change, 30, 42-44, 352

de Villiers, J., 191, 209–210 and subject drop, 162 Diary style, 183. See also Null subjects, in and word order, 104 First words, 52, 56. See also Lexicon diaries Discontinuity in development, 129, 232, Foreign accent, 44 236. See also Continuity view of in second language acquisition, 44 language development Foreign contrasts Discourse-bound operator, 155, 158, 170 ability to discriminate, 42-45, 50, 69-70 Dissociation, 375–376, 396, 398, 401, 404 (see also Foreign languages) Dropped topics, 155, 175-176, 178. See Foreign languages, 21 also Parameter(s) discriminating between two, 27-31, 32, 38 Dutch, 25, 29-30, 34-38, 68-69, 291, 104, discriminating own vs., 24-27, 32 109-111, 120, 122, 128-129, 131, 161-French, 25, 27-31, 34, 36-38, 49, 102, 104, 109-110, 114, 119-120, 122-123, 128, 162, 164, 173-177, 210-212, 217 129, 131, 151, 192, 213, 215, 218, 224, 228-230, 236, 238, 240, 250, 255, 288, Early null subjects. See Null subject 290, 301, 371, 380, 391, 396 Echo questions, 191 Elicited imitation methodology, 366 Full competence hypothesis, 113-119 Elicited-production experiments, 210, 227, Functional elements, 107 projection, 104, 115-116, 119-120, 123, Empty Category Principle (ECP), 170 Empty operator, 168-169, 218, 232-237, 129, 132, 134, 141–145 239-240, 350, 361-364 reorganization of the sound space, 44-45 discourse-bound, 154-155, 157, 173, 177 Functional categories, 108–109, 113, 120. English, 17-19, 25, 28-30, 34-38, 40-41, See also Auxiliaries 43, 49, 51, 68–70, 102–103, 105, 108, and the maturational theory, 119 118, 120, 129–131, 134, 151, 162, 187– 188, 191, 193-194, 196, 200, 202, 209, General-purpose learning mechanism, 73 Genetic basis. See Specific Language 212, 217-221, 224, 228, 242, 293, 391, 298, 320-321, 324, 369-370, 380, 382-Impairment 383, 385 Gerken, L. A., 46, 92, 181-182 German, 104, 109-112, 120-121, 128, 131, Environmental factors. See Specific Language Impairment 162, 164, 173, 177, 187, 194, 196, 238, Errors in the interpretation of pronouns, 250, 252, 380-381, 384 291, 309 Gleitman, L. R., 81-83, 89, 97 Goodluck, H., 225-226, 363 and processing limitations, 297 (see also Gopnik, M., 391-395, 397, 401, 405 Processing) Evans-style contexts, 281-284, 296, 298 Grammar, 5-8. See also Universal Eventive interpretation. See Eventive Grammar reading Grammatical Eventive reading, 248, 261-263, 265. See function, 84, 94-97, 223, 246 also Passives, adjectival vs. verbal relations, 147 Existential wide scope reading, 323-325 Grammaticality judgment task, 349-351 Greek, 34-35, 370, 385, 391 Exophoric interpretation of the pronoun, 276, 281, 292, 301, 303, 307 Guasti, M. T., 121, 145, 191-192, 199-200, vs. anaphoric interpretation of the 202-206, 304, 307-309, 343 pronoun, 10, 278, 300 Experiments Haegeman, L., 122-123, 161-162, 172, design flaws in, 227, 304, 337-338 175-176 Hamann, C., 162, 164, 192 Extra agent condition, 330 Extragrammatical factors, 196 Hebrew, 250, 252, 287-8, 395-396 Extra object condition, 330, 335, 341 High-amplitude sucking procedure (HAS), 26, 65 Familial aggregation. See Specific Hoekstra, T., 141, 145 Hyams, N., 141, 145, 158-159, 259 Language Impairment Finite verbs, 109-111, 122, 196 Hypothesis formation and testing raising of, 104, 115, 120 procedure, 75

Icelandic, 288, 291, 293	and blind children, 89
Imitation, 11, 17	and children's production/comprehension methodology (see Elicited imitation	178, 192, 217, 229, 232, 264, 289, 337
methodology)	and connectionism, 13–16
Infant-directed speech. See Child-directed	and parameter setting, 101-103, 152, 158, speech	183, 147, 177, 240–241
Inflectional morphology, 379, 405	and parents' speech, 11
in SLI children, 377, 379, 382, 391	and phonological properties, 23–24, 28,
in WS children, 400–402	42–43, 52–53, 60
Innate equipment, 16, 52, 202, 242	and sign language, 50
Innateness, 17. See also Nativist theory	and SLI, 382
Input language. See Linguistic environment	Local domain, 273–277, 280, 285, 288,
Isolated words, 57	292–293, 306, 386, 389. See also Binding
	Logical problem of language acquisition,
Italian, 2, 17–19, 25, 28–30, 33–37, 40–41,	Logical problem of language acquisition,
102–104, 119–121, 124–126, 129–131,	Lang distance (LD) mayamant 200, 210
137, 152–153, 160, 181, 187–188, 190,	Long-distance (LD) movement, 209–210,
192, 194, 196, 199, 293, 298, 303, 371,	214. See also Wh-movement
385, 395–396	comprehension of, 209, 211
I-to-C movement, 188, 190, 193–197, 201–	production of, 209–211
202, 206, 240	Lust, B., 300–301, 303–304, 350, 365–370
and negative questions, 194	M-D:-1 D 240 200 201 207 240 251
and wh-questions, 194	McDaniel, D., 240, 299, 301, 307, 349–351, and yes/no questions, 194	356 McKee, C., 240, 286–288, 291–293, 301,
Japanese, 25, 28–30, 34–38, 40–41, 43, 49,	303, 307
102, 154, 190, 224, 228, 288, 391	Marcus, G. F., 4, 13–15, 225
Joint attention, 76	Maturation, 129, 146, 268, 357, 360, 377.
Judgment of reference task, 350	See also Maturational account
Jusczyk, P. W., 68–69, 73–74	and A-chains, 253–254
Jusczyk, 1. W., 00-09, 75-74	and babbling, 47
Labelle, M., 228-230, 232-233, 238	and control, 356–357
Language	and functional categories, 108, 119
capacity, 17, 47, 53, 103, 375	and passive, 253–254
as independent module, 399, 404–405	and PRO, 357
specific skills, 16, 45–46, 181	and Root infinitive, 146
Learnability problem, 58, 225, 239, 291,	and temporal operators, 360–361
336	Maturational account, 146, 252, 254–257,
Learning mechanism, 77	260, 268, 356
Learning-through-reinforcement hypothesis,	Medial- wh questions, 210, 212–213, 217,
12. See also Reinforcement	219, 241–242
Leonard, L. B., 383–384, 395–397	Mehler, J., 24–25, 27–32, 34, 36–37, 39–40,
Lexical effects, 355	338
Lexical knowledge, 31, 241, 286, 348, 355,	Mental generative procedure, 5
366–370	Mental mechanism operating on the basis
Lexical learning, 44, 240, 353	of analogy or similarity, 14. See also
Lexical-syntactic integration hypothesis,	Connectionism
365	Minimalist framework, 134
Lexicon, 18, 44, 52, 97, 249, 284–285, 296,	Modular approach, 284, 379
349	Modularity of language. See Cognitive phonological bootstrapping of, 55, 58–63	capacities; Language; Modular approach (see also Bootstrapping; Phonological bootstrapping model of lexical	Naigles, L., 85–89 acquisition)	Nativist theory, 18, 73, 299. See also Linguistic environment, 3–5, 17–19, 90, 70,	Universal Grammar
73. See also Degenerate input	Nature vs. nurture in language acquisition,
and babbling, 49–50	378
5,

> Pragmatic (cont.) Prosodic information, 31-33, 55, 65, 68-69, context, 176, 225, 227, 265, 368 principle, 298 (see also Principle P) strategies, 337 Pragmatics, 285, 298, 340, 342 felicity conditions, 226, 264, 340 Predicate-argument structure, 92. See also Argument structure Preferential looking paradigm, 84–85, 102 Prelexical representation, 60, 63, 65, 71–72, 74, 91 Preposition stranding, 2, 221, 229, 241. See also Pied-piping Principle A, 272-273, 275, 279-280, 285-288, 291, 293. See also Binding and SLI, 386-387, 403 and WS, 402-403 Principle B, 272, 275-276, 280-281, 285, 290-291, 302, 310. See also Anaphor(a); Anaphoric interpretation of the pronoun; Binding; Coreference and quantifiers/wh-operators, 294-296 and SLI, 386, 388-390, 403 and WS, 402-403 Principle C, 272, 279-280, 300-303, 305-308, 310. See also Anaphor(a); Binding; Coreference Principle of Clause-Internal Identification. 204, 206, 209. See also Empty Category Principle Principle P, 298 Principles, 18. See also Principles-andparameters model Principles-and-parameters model, 18-19, 135, 159, 194, 271, 285. See also Principles; Parameter(s) PRO, 178-179, 184, 266, 347-357, 360-362, 366, 370. See also Control vs. lexical pronouns, 366-368 Problem of induction, 75, 79 Processing, 179, 199, 286, 305, 397 account, 225-226 and negative questions, 199 and null subject, 181 and pronoun interpretation, 297-298 and relative clauses, 225-226 and thematic role transmission, 268 Processing deficits. See Processing Processing difficulties. See Processing Processing factor. See Processing Pro-drop languages, 131-132, 137, 139, 144, 181 Projection Principle, 108 Proper nouns, 280 Prosodic boundaries, 59-60, 63-65, 70-71. See also Prosodic information

Purpose clauses, 266, 363 Quantificational determiners, 314-318, 321, 328-329, 332, 334, 337 Quantifier Raising (QR), 273, 275, 280, 314-316, 321-329 Quantifiers, 313-318. See also Adverbs of quantification; Quantificational determiners and binding, 272, 279-281, 284, 294-296, 302-303, 305, 307 difficulty in interpreting, 390 vs. referential expressions, 316, 403 scope of, 315, 323, 325 Quelqui alternation, 213, 215, 217 Radford, A., 107-108, 119-120, 145 Recursion, 188, 241-242. See also Recursive rules Recursive rules, 224, 228, 352-353, 357 Referential NPs, 296, 302-304, 309, 314, 390 vs. quantified NPs, 314, 328, 390 Reflexive pronouns. See Principle A Regularities in language, 18, 24, 47, 70-72, 103, 120, 147, 184. See also Phonetic characteristics: Phonotactic constraints distributional, 61-63, 66, 70, 72 and segmentation, 68 and typical word shapes, 62 Reinforcement, 12-13, 17 Reinhart, T., 297 Relative clauses, 187, 217-242, 352 and Conjoined clause analysis, 225, 228 and processing (see Processing) comprehension of, 223-225, 227 production of, 228, 238 restrictive, 220, 227 resumptive, 230-233, 235-236, 239-241 (see also Resumptive pronouns) semantically based analysis of, 232 Resumptive pronouns, 228, 230-237. See also Relative clauses null, 233, 237 Reversible sentences, 102 Rhythm-based language discrimination hypothesis, 34-39 Rice, M., 375-385, 395-397, 400-401 Rizzi, L., 141-142, 146, 162, 166-167, 169–170, 184, 202–206 Roeper, T., 139, 159, 184, 191, 209-210, 217, 306 Root infinitive (RI), 129-132, 146, 163, 166, 379-380. See also Bare (verbal) form; Maturation; Optional infinitive and null subjects, 176, 178, 183 Root infinitive (RI) clauses, 108, 129-138, 141–143, 145, 147, 178–179 lack of auxiliary RI clauses, 144 temporal meaning of, 143 Rule I, 283, 297 Rule I*, 282-284, 296-300, 305 Rule of recursion. See Recursive rules Russian, 25, 27, 29-31, 34, 36-38, 288, 291, 293, 295, 128 Second language, 20, 44 Segmental information, 31, 44, 50, 68 Segmental properties, 31, 393 Segmentation, 58, 62, 66, 68, 72, 92. See also Phonetic characteristics; Phonological bootstrapping model of lexical acquisition; Phonotactic constraints; Regularities, distributional; Word boundaries Selection process, 23, 73 Semantic bootstrapping of syntax, 91, 94-96. See also Bootstrapping Sentence-to-world mapping procedure, 82, 97. See also Word-to-world mapping procedure Serbo-Croatian, 230 Sesotho, 261 Short-distance (SD) movement. See Whmovement Sign languages, 4, 16, 50-51. See also American Sign Language Similarities in language acquisition, 4, 17 across modalities (spoken and signed languages), 4, 17 across spoken languages, 4, 17 Small clause hypothesis, 107-109, 113, 119, Spanish, 25, 32, 34, 35-37, 45, 120-121, 124, 129, 152, 236, 240, 288, 293 Specific language impairment (SLI), 375-397, 403-405. See also Agreement; Auxiliaries; Bare (verbal) form; Inflectional morphology; Null subject; Principle A; Principle B; Rules; Subject agreement relation; Verb movement environmental factors, 378 familial aggregation, 377 genetic basis, 377 Statistical mechanism, 70. See also Word boundaries and Universal Grammar, 72-73 Stative interpretation. See Stative reading Stative reading, 248, 261, 265. See also Passives, adjectival vs. verbal

183, 299

Strategy of self-oriented action, 287, 387

Strong subject pronouns, 123. See also Clitic pronouns Structural representation, 6–8, 88, 90–91, 349, 353. See also Partial structural representation Structure-changing hypothesis, 352 Structure-dependent distributional analysis, 95 relation, 123-124, 147, 378-379, 386, 390 representations, 391 Subcategorization frame. See Argument structure Subject, 93-95, 104, 107, 112, 117-118, 139. See also Null subject coordinate, 125-126, 128 nonagent, 126 postverbal, 124-126, 128, 199 in RI clauses, 143-144 types, 122-123 and the Uniqueness Constraint, 134-136 in wh-questions, 192 Subject agreement, 124 as a linear relation, 124-125 in SLI children, 384-386 Subject-auxiliary inversion (SAI). See I-to-C movement Subject clitic pronouns. See Clitic pronouns Subject drop. See Null subject Subject omission. See Null subject Suprasegmental information. See Prosodic information Surface hypothesis, 395-397. See also Specific Language Impairment Swedish, 34, 49/104, 109, 112, 120, 128, 187, 193, 196 Symmetrical account, 332-337 Symmetrical responses, 331, 333, 336, 340-Syntactic-cueing-of-verb-meaning hypothesis, 88 Syntax, 285, 296, 349 phonological bootstrapping of (see Phonological bootstrapping of syntax) semantic bootstrapping of (see Semantic bootstrapping of syntax) Target language. See Linguistic environment Taxonomic relation, 78-79 Telegraphic speech, 107–108 Tense omission model, 133, 139-140, 145, 147, 380 Thematic relation, 78-79, 107 Thematic roles, 83, 94, 126, 246-249, 253-254, 256, 265-266. See also Thematic role assignment

Thematic role assignment Verb raising. See Verb movement by the preposition by, 266-267 Vocabulary spurt, 81 by transmission, 249, 266-268 VP-internal subject hypothesis, 134, 254, 256 Theories of language acquisition, 19 based on association (see Connectionism) Wanna-contraction, 2, 9 instructive, 19 Weak pronouns, 122-123, 139. See also nativist (see Nativist theory; see also Clitic pronouns Universal Grammar) subject, 131-132, 143 selective, 19 Wexler, K., 113, 118, 133-135, 137, 139, Thornton, R., 197, 210, 213, 217, 219, 225, 146, 252–253, 255–256, 287–288, 291– 295, 298-299, 306 292, 294–295, 298–299, 356–358, 361– Topic-drop, 173-174 362, 379–381, 383–384 Topic-drop languages, 164 Wh-Criterion, 187-193, 196, 201, 204, 208, Tough movement, 362, 364 240, 242 Transitional probability, 61, 66-67 and auxless questions, 202-203 Truncation, 209 head component of, 190, 192-193, 196 mechanism, 143 Wh-in-situ, 191–192 model/hypothesis, 141, 144-145, 147, 166, Wh-movement, 144, 187, 190-192, 203, 171 213, 242, 275 Truth value judgment task, 262, 286, 288, and relative clauses, 220, 228, 230-234, 295, 301–302, 306–307, 320 236-241 Two-step model of lexical acquisition, 73. short-distance (SD) movement, 209 (see See also Lexicon also Long-distance (LD) movement) Typical word shapes, 62-63, 67, 70-71. Wh-operator, 171, 188–193, 199, 201, 204– 207, 220–222, 240–242 See also Regularities, distributional; and binding, 279-280, 295, 302, 305-306 Segmentation and crossover, 168-169 Underspecification accounts, 133, 141, 143, Wh-questions, 131, 139, 144–147, 187, 191– 147 194, 202, 207, 219. See also Negative (wh) Uninflected form. See Bare (verbal) form questions Universal Grammar (UG), 18-19, 23, 90, early English, 145, 184 108, 173, 183–184, 219, 242, 335 Williams syndrome (WS), 375-376, 398and agreement in CP, 216 405. See also Inflectional morphology; conservativity principle, 317 Principle A; Principle B definition of, 17 language in, 399–403 and maturation, 129, 254 lexicon, 400 and parameters, 146-147, 156, 201 Word and quantifiers, 318, 321 boundaries, 56-58, 60-62, 65-66, 70-72. theory of acquisition based on, 17-19 (see also Segmentation; Statistical Universal wide scope reading, 322, 324mechanism) 325, 327, 336 forms, 55, 57-58, 60-61, 63, 73-74, 91-92 meaning, 74-80, 82-84 Variable, 167-169, 220, 235, 274-275. See order, 2, 101-104, 109 also Null constant segmentation, 73 Verb Word-and-rule theory, 15–16, 392, 395, 401 finite (see Finite verbs) Word-to-world mapping procedure, 75, 81, unaccusative, 257-260 92, 97. See also Sentence-to-worldunergative, 258-260 mapping procedure Verb meaning, 75, 80-81, 93, 97 causative, 83, 93 (see also Causative verbs) X-bar schema, 90, 93-94, 102, 108 syntactic cueing of, 82, 84 (see also X-bar structure. See X-bar theory; X-bar Syntactic-cueing-of-verb-meaning schema hypothesis) X-bar theory, 93 Verb movement, 104-106, 116-119, 123, 132, 200, 383 Yes/no judgment task, 286 in SLI, 380-381 Yes/no questions, 194, 196