

---

Index

- Adaptation, 108, 137, 138, 144, 145
Adorno, Theodor W., 13, 14, 62, 99, 276, 281, 286
Affect of command, 127–128, 139–140, 230
Affectivity, 112, 127, 130, 131, 134
Affects, 98, 131, 237
    perspective theory of, 64, 95, 97, 102, 104, 124
Agency. See Human agency/subjectivity
Alienation, 45, 75, 86, 88
Allen, Christine, 255
Altruism, 71, 105, 238
Amor fati, 191–196
Anarchism, 74, 222
Andrew, Edward, 270, 290
Anthropomorphism, 48, 76, 93, 135
Antinomies of reason, 119–122
Anti-Semitism, 212, 221
Apollinian aspects of existence, 67, 75
Appearance, 49, 96, 131, 133, 136,
    and art, 184
    and essence, 32, 112, 181
Architecture, 188
Arendt, Hannah, 236, 266, 268, 279, 283
Aristocracy, 66, 177, 213, 226, 237–240, 245
Aristophanes, 162
Aristotle, 134, 174, 275
Art, 71, 77, 163, 168, 179–189, 205
    as a countermovement to Christianity, 187
    as exemplification of agency, 179–180
    and ideology, 183, 186–187
    and illusion, 183–187
    and knowledge, 183–186
    and politics, 188–189
    revaluation of, 179–180, 189
    and truth, 184
Artists, 49, 179–188, 205
Asceticism, Christian, 109
Augustine, St., 43
Authoritarianism, 216–218
    and truth, 236
Authority, interpretive bases of, 171, 172, 247
Autonomy, individual, 154–157, 173–175, 203, 206, 207, 234

Barth, Hans, 265, 273, 289
Bataille, Georges, 285, 288
Becoming, concept of, 32, 34, 80, 82, 130, 190, 197, 199–201
Being, concept of, 16, 32–33, 82, 111, 181, 190
    and the eternal return, 197, 199–206
Bentham, Jeremy, 152, 215–218
Berkeley, George, 131
Biological language, Nietzsche's, 36, 131, 261
Biology, 36, 130. See also Physiology and evolution, 137, 177
    Nietzsche's assumptions about, 240–242, 244, 246
Bismarck, Otto von, 189, 222
Blanchot, Maurice, 262
Blondel, Eric, 264
Bluhm, William, 255, 285–286
Body, 91, 130–131, 138, 230, 241
    and mind, 31, 57, 124–125
Bourgeois society, 45, 88, 290
Breazcale, Daniel, 257, 263, 274, 276
Breeding, 58, 262, 264–265
Bröse, Karl, 267
Buddha, 206

- Bueb, Bernard, 268
 Bureaucratic organization, 209, 243–245
 Burke, Edmund, 211–212
- Caesar, Julius, 233
 Capitalist society, 212–213, 218, 223–225, 244–245, 248
 Cartesianism, 32, 135, 155
 Categorical imperative, 174, 216–217
 Catholic church, 219–220, 236
 Causality, concept of, 52, 83, 119–122, 125, 134–135, 202
 Christ, 233, 258
 Christian culture. See Culture, Christian-moral Christian hubris against nature, 165
 Christianity, 47, 49, 92, 246
   as art, 187
   and cruelty, 25
   and cultural evolution, 149–152
   and decadence, 30–32, 150
   as ideology, 64–65, 150, 187
   and individuation, 60
   and liberal democratic ideology, 213–219
   and morality, 168–176
   and nihilism, 17–20, 26–32, 35–45, 149–152, 242–243
   Pauline, 172
   and pity, 195–196
   and rationalism, 38–40, 45, 54, 63, 106
   and revaluation, 161–163
   and science, 163–168
   and the state, 219–222
   and weakness, 240
 Civilization, 22, 264
 Class agency, 142, 153
 Class hegemony, 24–27, 65
 Class society, 67–69, 213, 230–231
   as a cause of nihilism, 18–29
   and ideology, 64–66
   necessity of, 223–225, 237–240
   Nietzsche's assumptions about, 237–240
 Classes
   bourgeois, 212–213, 224
   master and aristocratic, 21–25, 28, 32, 64, 69, 138, 176–177, 188, 242–243 priest, 39, 64, 171–172, 236, 242 slave, 18–32, 39–40, 64–69, 109, 129, 138, 150, 163, 176–179, 195–196, 225, 237–240, 242–246 working, 224–225, 237–240
 Cognition, 41
   and culture, 47–50
   and the eternal return, 200–203
   and language, 50–52, 56, 76–77
   and practices, 95–96
- Cognitivism, 93
 Colman, John, 285
 Communication, 148, 234
   and art, 70–71, 185, 189
   social utilities of, 52, 55–56
 Community
   affective basis for, 70
   Christian, 195–196, 214
   and communication, 55–56, 70–71, 235
   and culture, 50–51
   ideological representations of, 67–68, 220
   and individuality, 58–61, 233, 247
   Kantian, 74
 Conscience, 162, 219
   bad, 20–25, 27, 42, 171–172, 178
   Christian, 39, 151
   good, 176, 180, 196, 239, 281
   scientific, 39, 151
 Conservatism, 3, 24, 84, 211–213, 239
 Conservative organicism, 69–70, 209
 Constitutional representation, 70
 Cosmology
   speculative, 118–120, 133
   of time, 197
 Creativity
   and art, 179–180
   and communication, 71
   cultural, 20, 25–28, 47
   in cultural evolution, 144
   and knowledge, 183–186
   and nihilism, 20, 25–28, 45, 53
   and politics, 188–189
   and violence, 20, 25–28, 231
   will to power as source of, 112
 Crisis of legitimacy, 38, 40–42, 151, 220
 Crisis of rationality, 38–40, 54, 150–152
 Critical history, 87–90, 99–103
 Critical philosophy, Kantian, 6, 111, 116–121, 126
 Critical postmodernism, 6–8, 154–157, 207, 247
   and Nietzsche's concept of power, 12, 112–114, 129
 Critical theory, 6, 61, 265
 Criticism. See also Genealogy; Immanent method of criticism functional, 104, 107–109
   genetic, 104, 106–107
   logical, 104–106
 Cruelty, 195, 224
   and the categorical imperative, 174, 217
   deification of, 21, 25
 Cultural crisis, 37–42, 44–45
 Cultural determinism in history, 35–37, 143–152, 242–246
 Cultural exclusion, 24–25, 242

- Culture, 46–78. See also Political culture
 Alexandrian, 68
 Christian-moral, 19–20, 23, 25, 27–32, 35–45, 47, 49, 54, 63, 92, 106, 149, 161–
 176, 192, 213–224, 240, 243, 246
 cognitive functions of, 10, 47–50 creation of, 25–29
 criticism of, 104–109, 159–163
 evolution of (see Evolution, cultural) falseness of, 48–50
 as a goal of politics, 237–240
 as ideology, 61–69
 and individuation, 58–61, 190
 and language, 50–55
 and legitimization of the state, 219–226
 liberal democratic, 213–219, 225–226
 nihilistic, 17–20, 29–30, 35–42, 242–246
 political functions of, 47, 66–78
 political imposition of, 24–25, 188–189, 220–223
 and reification, 55–58
 relative autonomy of, 47–50
 revaluation of, 161–163
 tragic, 24, 68, 192, 238–239
- Dahl, Robert, 287
- Dannhauser, Werner, 255, 270, 273, 290
- Danto, Arthur, 14–15, 256, 258, 263, 284
- Darwinian evolution. See Evolution,
 Darwinian
- De Man, Paul, 15, 256, 260, 267
- Decadence, 30–32, 66, 150–151, 261
 in art, 187
 in liberal democratic culture, 217, 220
- Deleuze, Gilles, 21, 112, 130
- Democracy, 71
 Greek, 68, 72
 liberal, 12, 43, 153–154, 213–222, 225, 239, 287
- Derrida, Jacques, 15, 180–184, 256, 260
- Descartes, René, 33, 113, 117, 229. See also Cartesianism
 cultural (see Cultural determinism in history)
 historical, 36–37, 80–87, 141–143, 193–194, 198
- Difference, concept of, 133, 200–205
- Dionysian aspects of existence, 38, 41, 48, 76, 127, 70–71
 and cultural evolution, 144–146
 and history, 80
 and language, 53–54
 and tragedy, 67–68, 75, 190–192
 and truth, 93–94, 96, 99
 and will to power, 130–132, 134
- Division of labor, Nietzsche's assumptions
 about, 237–240, 288
- Domination
 concept of nihilism as critique of, 12
 cultural, 24
 cultural refraction of, 20–21
 economic, 226, 237, 240, 244–245
 and metaphysics of subjectivity, 7, 11–12
 Nietzsche's assumptions about, 43, 113,
 176, 207–211, 226–233
 and will to power, 113, 140–141, 207–209, 226–233
- Douglas, Mary, 56
- Dreams, 54, 65
- Durkheim, Emile, 9, 209, 231
- Duties, political, 22, 73, 152, 218–219, 232
- Dworkin, Ronald, 152
- Eden, Robert, 255
- Ego, 115, 117–119, 169, 178, 194
- Egoism, 60, 106, 166
- Eisenach, Eldon, 287
- Eleatics, 148, 167
- Empiricism, 90, 270. See also Positivism
- Engels, Frederick, 45
- Enlightenment, the, 48
- Epistemology, 4, 89, 90, 152, 156–157
 critical (Kantian), 34, 89–90, 122–125, 164
 and nihilism, 14, 44
 and perspectivism, 64, 92–99, 102
- Equality, 68, 70–74, 157, 208, 239, 247–248. See also Inequality
 agonistic, 72
 political, 43, 73–74, 218–219, 225–226, 232
 and will to power, 112, 208
- Eternal return of the same, 160, 191, 196–203, 281
 as a cosmology of time, 197, 284
 as a teaching, 203–206
- Ethics, 168–176. See also Morality
 and nihilism, 13–14, 44
 of responsibility, 166, 175, 283
- Evolution
 cultural, 107–108, 116, 141–152, 210
 Darwinian, 137–138
 Nietzsche's Lamarckian assumptions
 about, 177, 240–242
 of nihilism, 35
- Exploitation, 195, 207–209, 227, 230, 232
 economic, 224–226, 237–240
- Fascism, 66, 211–212, 222, 236, 240. See also Nazism
- Fatalism, 192–194

- Fate, 81, 206
 Feudal politics, 43, 219–220
 Feuerbach, Ludwig, 85
 Fink, Eugen, 276
 Forgetfulness, 87, 177–178, 203
 Foucault, Michel, 7, 11, 100, 170–171, 235, 267–268, 272, 289
 Frankfurt Institute for Social Research, 262, 278, 290
 Free will, 42, 63, 115, 117, 120, 129, 141, 157, 165
 Freedom, 60, 116, 206, 219
   and historical determination, 81, 88, 99, 101, 193–194
   inner, 217
   and Kantian morality, 173–175
   and necessity, 119–121
   as need and motive, 9, 23, 140
   positive, 9, 208
 French monarchy, 66
 French Revolution, 43, 218
 Freud, Sigmund, 6, 54, 58, 65–66, 144, 153, 177–178, 194, 263, 265, 277–278
 Functional explanations, 104, 108–109, 238
   of consciousness, 137
   of culture, 50
   of ideology, 65, 238
 Funke, Monika, 265

 Galileo Galilei, 167
 Gay science, 187
 Genealogy
   as ideology critique, 103
   and justifying history, 99–102
   as method, 8, 11, 46, 87, 102–110, 143–144, 161, 272
 German tradition in philosophy, 10, 80, 89, 172
 Germany, 212, 221–222
 God, 20, 32, 35, 38–43, 49, 53, 69, 117, 161, 165, 171, 195, 218, 220–221 death of, 40, 92, 151
 Gods, 60, 187, 194
 Godwin, William, 74
 Goldman, Emma, 222, 286–287
 Grammar. See Language, and grammar
 Gramsci, Antonio, 278
 Grand style, 162, 188
 Grant, George, 267, 268, 283
 Gray, J. Glenn, 282
 Great politics, 44, 222–223
 Greeks, ancient, 44, 49, 66–69, 72, 117, 192–193, 196, 238–239
 Grimm, Reinhold, 290
 Grimm, Ruediger, 261, 276
 Guilt, 22, 42, 165, 171

 Haar, Michel, 258–259
 Habermas, Jürgen, 62, 94–95, 265, 269–270, 272, 278, 289
 Happiness, 169, 217
 Hegel, Georg Wilhelm Friedrich, 21, 29, 32, 38, 51, 79, 82, 84–87, 89, 99, 101–102, 133, 143, 155, 174, 198, 211, 257, 262, 272, 276
 Heidegger, Martin, xii–xiii, 5–6, 27, 32–36, 40, 81, 111–112, 117, 127, 130, 132, 139–140, 179, 182, 184, 199, 259, 262, 285
 Hermand, Jost, 290
 Historical determination. See Human agency/subjectivity, and historical determination Historicity of existence, 78–82, 116, 268
   and amor fati, 193
   and the eternal return, 197–206
   and knowledge, 90
   and memory, 178
   and self-identity, 160, 190–191, 197
 History
   antiquarian, 82–84
   critical, 87–88, 99–103
   Hegel's approach to, 82, 85–87
   justification of, 99–102
   monumental, 82–84
   as myth, 82
   and narrative, 82
   objectivistic, 82, 85, 87, 165
   will to power as, 141–143
   writing of, 100
 Hitler, Adolph, 189
 Hobbes, Thomas, 73, 113, 152, 209, 215, 218, 229, 230, 287
 Homer, 162
 Horkheimer, Max, 62, 278, 286, 288, 290
 Human agency/subjectivity, 1–12. See also Intersubjectivity; Self-constitution; Self-identity
   and art, 179, 186–187
   assumptions about in political thought, 1, 6–8, 152–155, 207–208
   bases for in practices, 16–17, 114–116, 123–126, 128–129, 186, 190–191
   as the basis for epistemology, 95–99
   as a basis for judgment, 115–116, 129–130, 174–176, 234–235
   conditions of possibility of, 9–11, 115, 122–129, 179–180
   and critical knowledge, 11–12, 87–92
   cultural/interpretive organization of, 10–11, 46–48, 51, 58–61, 146, 149–151, 234 and equality, 234–235

- and the eternal return, 199–200, 203, 205–206
 and genealogy, 11, 103–104, 109
 and historical determination, 81–82, 87–88, 100–101, 142–143, 146, 165, 190–191, 203
 and ideology, 47, 63–66, 171–172, 222
 liberal assumptions about, 152–153, 214–219
 loss of capacity for, 9, 15–20, 23, 27–31, 150–152, 159, 243–246
 and memory, 177–179
 metaphysical conceptions of, 6–7, 33–34, 116–119, 125–126, 152–155, 190, 200, 214–219
 moral, 4, 15, 33, 168–175 needs for and interests in, 9, 11, 38, 40, 63, 67, 90–91, 138–141
 and nihilism, 9, 16–20, 27–29, 87–88, 150–152, 159, 239, 243
 and nobility, 176–179
 phenomenology of, 126–129
 political, 6, 43–44, 46, 246
 political conditions of, 69–74, 246–247
 and political oppression, 18–28, 242–246
 as power, 8–12
 reification of capacities for, 57, 144, 147–152, 215–216, 222
 and repression, 177–179
 and rights, 72
 and self-interpretation, 10, 127–129, 138–141, 190–191
 and suffering, 18–28, 195–196
 and truth, 11–12, 95–98
 as a value, 115–116, 129–130, 174–176, 234–235
 and will to power, 8–9, 111, 113–116, 136–141, 232–233
 Human nature, 58–9, 169, 174, 217. See also Second nature
 liberal assumptions about, 217–218
 Nietzsche's assumptions about, 227, 240–242
 Humanism. See Anthropomorphism;
 Metaphysical humanism
 Hume, David, 94–95, 120, 270
 Husserl, Edmund, 39
 Huxley, Thomas, 138
- Idealism in historical explanation, 35–36
 Ideology
 art as, 183, 186–187
 Christianity as, 64–65, 150, 170–172, 187
 and class society, 24, 225–226, 290
 in contemporary political thought, 7, 154–155
 critical theory of, 61–66, 265
 culture as, 46–47, 61–69, 74, 144
 economic, 237–240
 egalitarianism as, 71–72, 219
 epistemology as, 98
 and the “feeling of power,” 64–65, 149–150
 and language, 52, 58
 liberal democratic, 214–219, 221, 225–226
 morality as, 170–172, 174, 179
 and nihilism, 43, 88
 science as, 164–165
 theories of, 27, 61–66, 129, 156
 tragic drama as, 70
 Ideology critique, 63, 103, 159–160
 Illusion, 65–66, 192, 197
 and art, 183–187
 genealogical critique of, 103
 and knowledge, 61–62
 and truth, 76, 92–94
 will to power as a doctrine of, 34
 Illusions of speculative metaphysics, 118–119
 Imaginary satisfactions, 28, 32, 65, 186–187
 Imagination, 145
 Immanent method of criticism, 210–211
 Individualism, 58–61, 173
 liberal, 173, 214–218
 moral distinguished from ontological, 9, 60
 Individuality, sovereign, 64, 74, 172–175, 178, 205, 212, 219, 232
 Individuation, 11, 155–156. See also Self-constitution and consciousness, 55–58
 social and cultural conditions of, 58–61, 67, 70–71, 73–74, 189, 215–216, 218, 232–234
 and the state, 223
 as value, 175–176, 189, 233–236, 238, 247–248
 Inequality, 24, 212–213, 225–226. See also Equality
 Instinct, 51, 69, 137–138
 Interests
 and ideology, 61–64
 in knowledge, 12, 85, 87, 90–91, 96–99, 135–136, 164–165
 in power, 62
 in rationalizing suffering, 25–28, 65–66
 in self-constitution/subjectivity/agency, 9, 11, 20, 61, 67, 90, 103
 true, 62
 Interpretation
 and deconstruction, textual, xi–xii, 180–183
 historical constraints on, 144–146

- Interpretation (cont.)
   of history, 82–87, 102–109
   and knowledge, 183–186
   linguistic structure of, 50–55, 145–146, 148
   reification of, 55–58, 149
   as a response to exigencies of politics, 25–29, 75–77
   of self, 10, 17, 60–61, 138–141, 150, 201–203
   as a source of nihilism, 18–19, 37–42, 150
   and truth, 92–99
   will to power as, 127–129, 136–141
 Intersubjectivity, 127, 234–236, 247
   and art, 180, 188–189
   and individuation, 60–61, 70–71, 84
   and language, 145

 Jaspers, Karl, 259, 262, 268, 278, 285, 288
 Jews, ancient, 28–31
 Judaism, 28–31, 39, 109
 Jung, Carl, 273
 Justice, 214, 219

 Kant, Immanuel, 7, 10, 34, 73–74, 89, 93, 103, 105, 111, 116–126, 133, 152, 156,
   164, 169–170, 173–176, 216–218, 235.
   See also Antinomies of reason; Critical philosophy, Kantian; Synthetic a priori judgments
 Kariel, Henry, 269
 Kaufmann, Walter, 255, 257, 273, 276, 285, 290
 Klages, Ludwig, 273
 Knowledge, 11–12, 151, 163–167
   and art, 183–186
   conditions of possibility of, 90–92, 122–123
   historical conditioning of, 79, 85–90
   and ideology, 171–180
   and metaphysics, 53, 119
   tacit, 41, 54, 98, 185
   and truth, 92–99
 Kofman, Sarah, 267
Kultur-Staat, 222
 Kutzner, Heinrich, 276

 Labor, 224–226, 237–240, 244
 Lacan, Jacques, 277
 Lamarckian evolution, 177, 240–241, 287
 Language, 10, 71, 233, 234
   and cognition, 50–52, 56, 76–77
   and culture, 50–55
   and the Dionysian aspects of existence, 53–54
   fetishism of, 53, 58
   and grammar, 52–56, 97, 119, 146, 148
   and historical determination, 143, 145–148
   and ideology, 58
   and intersubjectivity, 55–58, 145
   and reification, 55–58
 Last man, 220, 290
 Law of Manu, 69
 Lenin, V. I., 231
 Leninism, 236
 Lessing, Gotthold Ephraim, 172
 Liberal democracy. See Democracy, liberal Liberalism, 12, 43–44, 59, 72–74, 152–153, 173, 212–221, 225
 Locke, John, 152, 211, 218, 287
 Löwith, Karl, 288
 Löwy, Michael, 288
 Lukács, Georg, 212–213, 223–224, 225, 273, 278, 286, 288, 290

 Machiavelli, Nicolo, 64
 MacIntyre, Alasdair, 255, 279, 288
 Macpherson, C. B., 287
 Magical world views, 40, 171
 Magnus, Bernd, xii–xiii, 81, 259–260, 284
 Marcuse, Herbert, 265, 285–286, 287
 Market societies, 212–213, 218, 223–226, 248
 Markets, 154, 209, 243–245
 Marx, Karl, 6, 45, 51, 55–56, 58, 85, 88, 94–95, 99, 102, 111, 126, 141–143,
   156–157, 159–160, 163, 174, 209, 231,
   233, 243, 290
 Marxism, 153, 290
 Master classes. See Classes, master and aristocratic Mastery, 69, 140, 142, 207, 229
 Mauer, Reinhart, 290
 McGinn, Robert, 258, 267
 Meaning. See also Truth
   and culture, 46, 75, 145
   experiential conditions of, 15–17, 30–32, 40–42, 53, 57–58
   genealogical deconstruction of, 99–110, 162–163
   and language, 54, 57–58
   and nihilism, 16–31, 38–40, 44–45, 151
   self-constituting practices as a source of,
     15–17, 95–98, 140, 151, 192
   shared contexts of, 37, 50
   and social position, 67–69, 238–239
   and textual deconstruction, xii, 5, 180–182
   totalitarian construction of, 220–223
   and truth, 38–40, 45, 92–99
 McGill, Allan, 257
 Mehring, Franz, 212, 286
 Memory, 22–23, 125, 177–178
   of the will, 175, 178, 191
 Merit, liberal concept of, 217

- Merquoir, José, 265
- Metaphysical humanism, 33, 34, 117, 132
- Metaphysics
   in contemporary political thought, 152–158
   and deconstruction, 180–183
   dogmatic or speculative, 103, 116–121
   genealogical deconstruction of, 106–107
   of grammar, 53
   of human agency/subjectivity, 1–2, 9–10, 33, 114–116, 123–126, 129, 152–155, 190, 200, 214–218
   and identity, 200–201, 205
   in liberalism, 214–218
   and morality, 169–171, 233
   Nietzsche's critique of, 32–33, 38–40, 78, 116–121, 166
   Nietzsche's use of, 12, 112–113, 207–209, 227–230, 237
   and nihilism, 13–15, 32–35, 37–40, 149–151
   positivist critique of, 93–94
   and postmodern political thought, ix–x, 6–8
   rationalist, 37–40, 90
   representational-realist, 164, 182
   and science, 164–167
   will to power as, 111–113, 132, 199, 207–209, 227–230
- Method, 90. See also Immanent method of criticism genealogical (see Genealogy, as method) mistakes of in classical political thought, 209–211, 230
   scientific, 166–167
- Mill, James, 287
- Mill, John Stuart, 6, 153, 221, 286–287
- Miller, James, 290
- Mitzman, Arthur, 286
- Modernism
   defined, ix
   in moral philosophy, 10, 168
   in political thought, 1, 7, 113, 152–158, 229
- Morality, 59–60, 88, 114, 168–176. See also Categorical imperative; Human agency/subjectivity, moral; Ideology, morality categorical, 32, 168, 170–174, 216–217
   Christian, 39–40, 123, 151, 159, 168, 170–176, 179
- Kantian, 105, 123, 169–170, 173–176, 216–218, 286–287
   of mores, 172, 174–175
   and nihilism, 13–15
   post-Christian, 168, 172, 175–176, 232–235
   and power, 10, 156–157, 232–235
   revaluation of, 168–176
   utilitarian, 104–105, 107, 169, 216–218, 286–287
- Morgan, George, 259–260
- Müller-Lauter, Wolfgang, 261, 267, 274, 276
- Music, 54, 105, 109, 180
- Mythical world views, 146, 149, 171, 192, 197
- Nationalism, German, 221
- Nature, concept of, 48–50, 56, 77, 130–132, 140, 213. See also Human nature
- Nazism, 3, 211, 228. See also Fascism
- Necessity, 86, 119–121, 165
- Need for truth, 39–40, 149
- Needs. See Interests
- Nehamas, Alexander, 76–77, 94–95, 97, 103, 256, 270, 285
- Neurosis, 194
- Newtonian physics, 123, 135
- Nicholas, Marius Paul, 285
- Nihilism. See also Conscience, bad; Human agency/subjectivity, and nihilism; Meaning, and nihilism; Metaphysics, and nihilism; Ressentiment
   art as a resource against, 179
   and class society, 20–25, 223–226
   and creativity, 20, 25–28, 45, 53
   and critical perspective, 87–88, 92
   and culture, 46, 49
   and decadence, 30–32, 151
   as dislocated unity of practices/subjectivity, 20, 99, 115, 123–126, 139, 235
   and the eternal return, 203–205
   European, 18–21, 26, 35–45, 149, 151, 159, 161, 192, 204, 214, 219, 223, 243, 245 evolution of, 143–144, 147–152
   and genealogy, 100, 104, 161–163
   and historical experience, 80–82
   and historical method, 86–87
   and liberalism, 213–215
   Nietzsche's assumptions about modern causes of, 242–246 original, 18–29, 31, 35–37, 41, 44, 149–151, 204, 243–245 political consequences of, 42–44, 215–223
   and political experience, 20–30, 239, 242–246
   and revaluation, 159–163
   sources in the human condition, 15–17
   and the state, 219–223
   structure of, 15–17, 150–151
   and suffering, 195
   suicidal, 19, 23, 26, 28

- Nihilistic values, 29–33, 156
 Nihilists, 13–14, 16, 26, 30
 Nobility, 69, 163, 190, 203, 205
   revaluation of, 176–179
 Nolte, Ernst, 289
 Nothingness
   concept of, 14, 32
   feeling of, 15
   will to, 21, 23, 27, 29–30, 65

 Obedience, 32, 64, 128, 174, 224, 238
 Objectivity, 88, 99, 121
 Obligation, 22, 77
 Olafson, Frederick, 168, 280–281
 Ontological conditions of agency/practices, 9, 95, 111–112, 114, 155, 157, 234–235
   related to genealogy, 103–104
 Ontological limits
   contrasted with historical limits, 3, 81
   Nietzsche's assumptions about, 3, 75
 Oppression. See Political oppression
 Organic metaphor for society, 209, 230–232

 Pangle, Thomas, 286
 Pateman, Carole, 287
Pathos, 48, 197
   philosophical, 191
   and physis, 133–136
   will to power as, 112, 114, 127, 130–132, 134, 144
 Personal identity. See Self-identity Perspective theory of the affects. See Affects,
   perspective theory of Perspectivism, 11, 90–99, 102, 122
   and totality, 133
 Peters, F. E., 275
 Phenomenology
   of agency/subjectivity, 111, 126–129, 176 Hegelian, 85
   of pathos, 130–132
 Physiology, 71, 210. See also Biology
   as embodiment, 130–131
Physis, 132–136
 Piaget, Jean, 277
 Pity, 195–196
 Plato, 33–34, 69, 101, 149, 163, 167, 183–186, 209, 230, 236
 Platonism, 32, 38–39, 47, 106, 149–150,
   163–167, 184–187, 214, 270, 279
 Poetry, 54, 105, 183
 Polanyi, Michael, 41, 54
Polis, Greek, 66, 68, 236, 238–239
 Political culture, 47, 66–78, 188–189, 232, 238–239. See also Culture, political functions of; Culture, political imposition of Nietzsche's dominant model of, 67–69
   Nietzsche's latent model of, 69–74
   and the state, 219–223
 Political oppression, 68, 242–243
   and art, 188
   and the categorical imperative, 174
   as a cause of nihilism, 18–28, 242–243
 Political pluralism, 157, 247–248
 Positivism, 54, 93–95, 98, 164, 270
 Postmaterial values, 248
 Postmodern politics, 157, 246–248
 Postmodern values, 159–160, 248
 Postmodernism
   contrasted to modernism in political thought, 152–158
   critical, x, 7–8, 112, 114, 129, 155, 207, 247
   defined, ix
   Nietzsche's, 1–12, 15, 113–114, 132, 182, 207, 209, 211, 228–229, 247
   in political thought, 2–4, 6–8, 35, 129, 208, 228, 247–248
 Poststructuralism, 6. See also Deleuze, Gilles;
   Derrida, Jacques; Foucault, Michel Power. See also Domination: Political oppression; Will to power
   feeling of, 31–32, 64–65, 73, 90, 98, 109, 112, 127–128, 141, 146, 150, 188, 221
   and interpretation, 127, 136–138
   political, 64–65, 73, 109, 177, 226, 242–246
   and self-reflection, 127, 138–141
   and subjectivity, 8–12
 Powerlessness, 165
   and nihilism, 20–29, 36, 195, 243–245
   and self-identity, 9, 20–21
 Pragmatism, 93, 97
 Pregnancy, metaphor of, 180
 Prehistory, 147
 Priests, 26, 39, 64, 109, 171–172, 236, 242
 Promises
   capacity for, 174–175, 178
   of Christianity, 43, 170
   of rationalism, 154, 157
 Prophecy, 26
 Prussian monarchy, 66
 Psychological effects of class society, 20–25
 Psychological knowledge, 91–92, 165–166
 Psychological language, Nietzsche's, 36
 Psychology
   of Christianity, 171–172, 195–196
   of creativity, 25–29
   of illusions, 65–66
   of nihilism, 20–29, 43
   of nobility, 176–179
   of ressentiment (see Ressentiment)
   speculative, 118

- of tradition, 69
- will to power as, 111–112
- Pütz, Peter, 290
- Race, 240–241, 290
- Rajchman, John, 257
- Raphael, 224, 239
- Rationalism, ix–x, 63, 148–152
  - and genealogy, 104–105
  - metaphysical, 37–40, 90
  - Nietzsche's incorporation of, 8, 97–98, 104–105, 152, 207–208
  - progressive, 155, 208
- Rationality. See also Reason
  - conditions of, 1, 6, 114, 122–126, 154–156
  - crisis of, 37–40, 54, 149–152
  - and freedom, 116
  - and ideology, 62–66, 129, 149–150, 159–160, 164, 219
  - self-reflective, 62–66, 129, 159–160, 164, 172, 183, 219
- Rationalization
  - cross-class, 25, 219–220
  - of culture, 38–41, 151, 165, 261
  - of organizations, 232
  - psychological, 25–27, 65–66
- Rawls, John, 152
- Realism, metaphysical, 120, 164, See also Metaphysics
- Reason, 32, 50, 101. See also Rationality
  - Kant's critique of, 116–126, 217
  - and language, 53
  - practical, 173, 235–236
- Recognition, 234
  - of experience, 41, 202
  - of others, 24, 71–73, 84, 234–235
- Redemption, 42, 166, 172, 195–196, 216
- Reich, First, 212, 221–222
- Reification
  - of capacities for agency, 57, 144, 147–152, 215–216, 222
  - of categories of cause and effect, 120
  - cultural, 55–58
  - of epistemological criteria, 98
  - genealogical critique of, 103
  - of interpretive activities, 55–58, 164–165
  - and language 55–58, 71, 149
- Relativism. See Perspectivism; Truth
- Renaissance, Italian, 66, 167, 213
- Representation, political, 70, 221
- Repression
  - of difference, 200–206
  - psychological, 178–179, 194–195, 205, 265
- Responsibility, 101, 120
  - capacities for, 1, 6, 42, 46, 121, 156, 170, 196, 207–208, 234
  - cultural/ideological attributions of, 42, 60, 165–166, 192, 217
  - ethics of, 172–176, 232, 234–235
- Ressentiment*, 20, 27–29, 31, 66, 77, 178
- Revaluation
  - of art, 179–189
  - and genealogy, 162
  - of history, 99–102, 161–163
  - of morality, 168–176
  - of nobility, 176–179
  - of science, 163–168, 189–190, 205
  - of suffering, 26–27, 194
  - of values, 19, 28, 157, 160–163, 189
- Revolution, 163, 236. See also French Revolution
- Right. See Ethics; Morality
- Rights, 43, 72–74, 152, 213–219, 232
- Rocker, Rudolph, 286
- Romans, 72
- Romantic anticapitalism, 213, 223–224
- Romanticism, 187
- Rosen, Stanley, 14–15, 256
- Röttges, Heinz, 261, 268, 276
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 6, 113, 155, 229, 287
- Sabine, George, 255
- Salvation, 65, 170, 195–196, 236. See also Redemption
- Sautet, Marc, 213, 255
- Schacht, Richard, 256, 258
- Scharff, Robert, 268
- Scheler, Max, 259
- Schlehta, Karl, 257
- Schmidt, Alfred, 267, 274, 290
- Schopenhauer, Arthur, 10, 75, 79–80, 117, 131, 206
- Schumpeter, Joseph, 287
- Schutte, Ofelia, 229–230, 274, 290
- Science, 42–43, 123, 133, 176, 266
  - human, 91–92
  - as interpretation, 180, 183–186
  - as method, 165–167
  - and nihilism, 32, 91–92
  - revaluation of, 163–168, 189–190, 205
- Second nature, 36, 51, 58–59
- Self. See Human agency/subjectivity; Self-consciousness; Self-constitution; Self-identity
- Self-consciousness, 16–17, 55–59, 85, 101–102, 162
  - and communication, 55–58
  - and culture, 55–61
  - and language, 55–58
  - and nihilism, 16–17
  - and the will to power, 136–141
  - of the will to truth, 105

- Self-constitution, 9, 12, 139–141. See also Human agency/subjectivity;
 Individuation
 and amor fati, 192, 196
 and division of labor, 237–240
 and epistemology, 98–99
 and history, 82–87, 142–143
 and interpretation, 10, 36, 187
 as motive and interest, 139
 and nihilism, 23, 29
 Self-defeat, 190
 Self-delusion, 30
 Self-forgetfulness, 224
 Self-identity. See also Intersubjectivity
 bases for in practices, 16–17, 128–129, 186, 277
 and culture, 48–50, 189, 222–223
 and the eternal return, 160, 189–191, 199– 206
 and ideology, 64–66, 186, 222–223
 and interpretation, 10, 28
 and Kantian ethics, 173
 and memory, 178–179
 and nihilism, 9, 16–17, 26–28
 and recognition, 83–84
 and social consciousness, 43
 Self-reflective motivation, 127–129, 138–141. See also Human agency/
 subjectivity, needs for and interests in;
 Self-consciousness; Self-identity
 Sensations, 124–125, 127–132
 Shaw, George Bernard, 286
 Shklar, Judith, 272
 Simmel, Georg, 59, 170, 173, 233, 265
 Sin, 42, 101, 165, 171, 217
 Slave classes. See Classes, slave
 Smith, Adam, 209, 231
 Social consciousness 43, 55–61. See also
 Culture; Ideology; Intersubjectivity;
 Language
 Social engineering, 235–236
 Socialism, 224, 236, 239, 290
 Sokel, Walter, 255, 282, 285
 Solomon, Robert, 258, 260, 279
 Sorel, Georges, 286
 Soul
 equated with society, 113, 209, 230–231
 Kant's critique of, 117–118
 metaphysical concepts of, 9, 200, 214–217
 Nietzsche's reinterpretation of, 115–116
 Sovereign individual. See Individuality, sovereign
 Spirit, 138, 140, 162, 180
 free, 188
 Hegel's concept of, 86
 Stambaugh, Joan, 199, 268
 State
 contract theories of, 22
 and oppression, 22–24
 and political culture, 73–74, 219–223, 236, 288
 and nihilism, 219–223, 239
 Stern, J. P., 59–60, 255, 273, 282, 288–289
 Stern, Peter, 269–270
 Stoicism, 32
 Strauss, Leo, 255
 Strong, Tracy, 24, 51, 112, 261–264, 266, 268, 283–284, 288
 Style, xi–xii, 50, 162, 180–183, 188
 Subjectivity. See Human agency/subjectivity
 Suffering, 18–28, 41–42, 68, 75, 77
 Christian exploitation of, 171–172, 195–196
 discipline of, 194, 196
 interests in rationalizing, 25–27, 64–66
 Synthetic a priori judgments, 120–122, 124–126, 274
 Teleology, 37, 90, 142–143
 Textual criticism. See Genealogy
 Textuality, metaphor of, xi–xii, 5–6, 42,
 75–77, 127, 140, 181–182
 Thomas, R. Hinton, 286
 Thucydides, 149
 Time, 81–82, 200–201, 206. See also Eternal return of the same; Historicity of existence; Human agency/subjectivity,
 and historical determination
 Totalitarianism, 68, 219–223, 238–240
 Nietzsche's, 68–69, 238–240
 and truth, 236
 Totality, concept of, 101, 132–133, 143,
 198, 276
 Tragedy
 and the eternal return, 204
 Greek, 24, 67–68, 186, 192–193, 196
 as political ideology, 24, 67–69, 238– 239
 as representation of community, 69–70
 Tragic wisdom, 160, 191–197, 204
 Transcendental realism, Kant's critique of, 120
 Truth. See also Meaning; Rationality; Reason
 and art, 184–186
 coherence theories of, 93, 87, 105
 correspondence theories of, 14–15, 93, 97, 156
 deconstruction of, 181–184 (see also Genealogy)
 Dionysian, 49, 93
 and illusion, 76, 92, 94, 184

- incorporation of (see Rationalism, Nietzsche's incorporation of) and language, 53
and metaphor, 76, 181–183
needs for, 38–40, 147–152
Nietzsche's perspective theory of, 92–99, 102, 156
and nihilism, 13–17, 26, 38–40, 44–45
Platonic conception of, 33, 38–40, 147–152
political uses of, 235–237
positivist theory of, 54, 93–965, 98, 164, 166–167
and power, 90, 95–97, 156–157
pragmatist theory of, 93, 96–97
and value, 95–99, 156–157
will to, 38–40, 45, 105–106, 147–152, 163, 181, 192
Truthfulness, 37, 39, 151, 166
Turner, Bryan, 255
- Übermensch*, 160, 163, 206, 246, 290
Universal claims, 117–118, 121–122
Utilitarianism, 104–105, 107, 147, 152, 169–170, 173, 216–218
Utilitarians, 105, 107, 152
Utility
of interpretations, 133, 137, 145–150
Nietzsche's genealogical concept of, 108, 146
and pragmatism, 93, 97
social, 56
- Value. See also Meaning artistic production of, 179–180
bases in self-constituting practices/power as agency, 9, 16–17, 30, 109, 114–115, 128–129, 156–157, 175–176, 192, 233–236 historical determination of, 99–100, 108–110
metaphysical conceptions of, 32–33, 37–39
and truth, 37–39, 93–99
and will to power, 114–116, 233–236
Veyne, Paul, 290
Violence
as a basis of political institutions, 21–22, 36, 77, 231
as a cause of nihilism, 20–29
cultural refraction of, 20–22, 25–29, 31, 35, 41, 151, 217
justification of, 101–102
Voegelin, Eric, 157, 255
- War, 22, 43, 70, 188–189, 282
Warnock, Mary, 94–95
Waxler, Alice, 287
- Weber, Max, 28, 39, 126, 153, 156, 167, 175, 209, 232, 243–244, 258–259, 277, 283, 286
Wechsler, Judith, 282
White, Hayden, 82
Wilcox, John, 93, 261
Will
free (see Free will) memory of (see Memory, of the will)
Schopenhauer's conception of, 10, 75
Will to power
as a basis for value, 114–116, 233–236
as cosmology, 132–136
as a creative/aesthetic principle, 112, 179, 188
and criteria for rational interpretation, 61–63, 90, 95–96, 129
as a critical ontology of practice, 11, 90, 95, 111, 114–116, 123–129, 152, 156, 179, 183, 243–246
and cultural evolution, 143–147, 241–242
and the eternal return, 191, 199, 273
and genealogy, 104, 109–110, 116
as history, 141–143
and human agency/subjectivity, 8–9, 111, 123, 113–116, 123–129, 136–141, 232–233
as interpretation, 127–129, 136–141
as metaphysics, 33–34, 111–113, 116–117, 121, 132, 199, 207–209, 227–230
and moral agency, 168–169, 175–176, 234–235
as pathos, 112, 114, 127, 130–132, 134, 144
as physis, 132–136
as a principle of domination, 12, 112–114, 140–141, 207–209, 226–233
as a psychological principle, 111–112
as self-reflection/consciousness, 59, 127–129, 136–141
as totality, 132–133
Will to truth. See Truth, will to Willing. See also Will to power conditions of, 15, 17, 29–32, 64–65, 125–129, 136, 229–232
and the eternal return, 205–206
and history, 141–143
metaphysical conceptions of, 115–116
and moral agency, 170, 173–176
and nihilism, 16, 23, 29–32
and self-identity, 197, 128–129, 200–201, 206
Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 54
Women, 68, 181
Work. See Labor
Working classes. See Classes, working

