

Index

- Absenteeism, 115–17
- Activation measures, 87–89
- Active labor market policies, 26
- Age and unemployment, 14–16, 29, 79–80
 - in France, 241–42
 - in Germany, 275–76
 - in Italy, 297–300
 - in Spain, 319–21
 - in Sweden, 106–109, 119
- American versus European cultural attitudes, 64–65
- Barriers to mobility, 26
- Benefit systems, unemployment, 26, 29–30, 117–18, 126–27
 - in Britain, 225–26
 - in Denmark, 82–87
 - disability and, 148–50
 - as disincentive to employment, 256–58, 282–84
 - in Finland, 168–73
 - in France, 256–59
 - in Germany, 279–84
 - impact of changes to, 32–36
 - in Ireland, 192–93, 201–202
 - in Netherlands, 145–47
 - replacement ratio, 55, 145–46, 225–26
 - and social security contributions in France, 245–47
 - in Spain, 328–29, 337–38
- Beveridge curve, 24–26, 93–94, 118
 - in Britain, 216–20
 - in Finland, 167
 - in France, 253–55
 - in Germany, 270–72
 - in Netherlands, 142–43
- “Black” employment pools, 302–303
- Britain
 - Beveridge curve in, 216–20
 - causes of employment growth in, 228–30
 - economic shocks in, 220–23, 231
 - employment growth in, 209–11
 - inflation in, 222–23
 - labor market institutions in, 223–28
 - long-term unemployment in, 214–15, 226
 - part-time employment in, 215–16
 - Phillips curve in, 220–23
 - productivity shocks in, 210–11
 - product market regulation in, 224
 - tax rates in, 224–25
 - unemployment trends in, 211–16
 - unionization in, 227–28, 230–31
- Capitalism
 - corporatism and, 61–62, 66–67
 - cultural attitudes and, 64–65
 - dynamism and, 59–60
 - operating systems, 60–62
 - social policy and, 62–64
- Collective bargaining. See Unions, labor
- Corporatism. See also Capitalism
 - benefits of, 66–67
 - characteristics of, 61–62
 - in Netherlands, 144–45
- Cultural attitudes, 64–65
- Cyclical unemployment, 1–2, 115–17
- Debt, government, 121–22
- Demand
 - labor market, 243–45, 277–78
 - monetary policy and aggregate goods, 19, 323–25
 - unemployment and, 17–19

- Denmark
 activation measures in, 87–89
 business cycle in, 80–82
 history of unemployment in, 75–78
 labor market characteristics in, 78–80, 98–99
 labor shortages in, 97–98
 mismatches in qualification and geography in labor market of, 93–95 policy approaches to unemployment in, 78, 82–89
 tax rates in, 95–97
 unemployment among women and youth in, 79–80
 unemployment benefits in, 82–87
 wages in, 75–77, 89–93
- Deregulation in product markets, 125–26
- Determinants of equilibrium rate of unemployment, 24–27
- Disability benefits, 148–50
- Disincentives to employment, 256–58, 282–84
- Disinflation in Italy, 307–308
- Dynamism
 characteristics of, 57–60
 cultural attitudes and, 65
 social policy and, 63
 sources and benefits of, 65–70
- Economic growth, 57–60. See also Growth, economic
 in Britain, 228–30
 in Finland, 171
 in France, 243–45
 in Ireland, 193–96, 203–204
- Economic shocks. See also Shocks, economic
 in Britain, 220–23, 231
 in Germany, 276–78
 in Italy, 307–11
 in Spain, 321–25
- Educational level
 entrepreneurship and, 67, 69
 sectoral mismatch and, 273–74
 unemployment and, 109, 138, 241, 320–21
- Emigration and unemployment, 188–91
- Employment protection laws, 26, 39–41
 in France, 259
 in Germany, 285–88
 in Spain, 327–28
 in Sweden, 123–25
- Equilibrium rate of unemployment
 aggregate demand and, 18
 determinants of, 24–27
 long-term deviations from, 19–24
 in Spain, 323–25
 in Sweden, 119–20
- European Monetary Union, 194–95, 309–10, 322–23, 336–37
- Eurozone, the, 18–19
- Family ties in Spain, 330–31
- Finland
 active labor market policies in, 176–77
 average duration of unemployment in, 177–81 inflation and growth in, 163–65
 labor market institutions in, 168–77
 negative shocks in, 162–63
 recession in, 159–61, 181–83
 1980s boom in, 161–62
 structural changes after recession in, 165–67
 unemployment benefits in, 168–73
 unions and wage formation in, 173–75
- Flow models of equilibrium
 unemployment rate, 24–27
- France
 Beveridge curve in, 253–55
 educational level and unemployment in, 241
 employment protection laws in, 259
 employment trends in, 237–43
 inactivity traps in, 256–58
 labor demand changes in, 243–45
 part-time employment in, 242–43, 244–45
 policy issues in, 256–59, 260–61
 productivity slowdown in, 251–53 social security contributions in, 245–47, 251, 255 unemployment insurance in, 258–59
 wages in, 252, 253–55
 work hours in, 248–51
- Gender and unemployment. See Women, employment of
- Geographical mobility in Spain, 330–31
- Germany
 age and unemployment in, 275–76
 Beveridge curve in, 270–72
 economic shocks in, 276–78
 educational level and unemployment in, 273–74

- employment protection laws in, 285–88
- insurance benefits and transfer payments in, 279–84
- labor market institutions in, 278–88
- political issues in, 288–89
- poor economic performance in, 267–68
- sectoral mismatch and unemployment in, 272–73
- structural unemployment in, 270
- unemployment trends in, 268–76
- wages in, 281–82
- Growth, economic, 57–60. See also
 - Economic growth
 - in Britain, 228–30
 - in Finland, 171
 - in France, 243–45
 - in Ireland, 193–96, 203–204
- Historical patterns in unemployment, 16, 42–43
- 35-Hour work week, 248–51
- Immigrant workers, 138–39
- Inflation
 - in Britain, 222–23
 - in Finland, 163–65
 - and high unemployment, 19–24
 - targeting, 120–21
- Institutions
 - economic system, 57–60
 - labor market, 28–36, 42–43, 150–54, 223–28, 278–88, 303–307, 325–31, 337–38
- Insurance, unemployment. See Benefit systems, unemployment
- Interest rates, real, 26, 31
 - in Ireland, 194–95
 - in Sweden, 113–14
 - worldwide investment and, 56–57
- Investment boom of the 1990s, 67–70
- Ireland
 - active labor market policies in, 200–203
 - centralized wage bargaining in, 198–200, 205–206
 - economic growth in, 187–88, 203–204
 - emigration from, 188–91
 - and the European Monetary System, 194–95
 - labor supply in, 196–98
 - macroeconomic developments and economic boom in, 193–96
 - preventive approach to long-term unemployment in, 200–201
 - recession and unemployment in, 188–93
 - social welfare system in, 192–93, 201–202
 - tax rates in, 199–200, 202
 - transformation in unemployment in, 193–203
 - unemployment benefits in, 192–93, 201–202
- Italy
 - aggregate unemployment rate in, 295–96
 - current structure of unemployment in, 296–97
 - disinflation in, 307–308
 - economic shocks in, 307–11
 - European Monetary Union membership and, 309–10
 - history of unemployment in, 294–303
 - labor market flows in, 300–302
 - labor market institutions in, 303–307
 - legislation and reforms in, 303–305
 - policy issues in, 312–14
 - regional and age differentials in, 297–300
 - regional productivity differentials in, 310–11
 - shadow economy in, 302–303, 311
 - shocks and unemployment in, 293–94
 - tax rates in, 311
 - unions in, 305–307
 - wages in, 303–307
- Labor market. See also Policies, active labor market; Unions, labor
 - activation measures, 87–89
 - Danish, 78–80, 82–89, 98–99
 - demand shifts, 243–45, 277–78
 - Dutch, 134–44
 - institutions, 28–36, 42–43, 150–54, 223–28, 278–79, 303–307, 325–31, 337–38
 - Irish, 196–98
 - Italian, 300–302
 - mismatches in qualification and geography in, 93–95
 - shortages, 97–98
 - supply, 10–16, 196–98
 - Swedish, 109–11, 127–28
 - taxes and, 27, 41–42, 55, 95–97, 119, 145–47, 199–200, 202
- Laws, employment protection, 26, 39–41
 - in France, 259
 - in Germany, 285–88
 - in Spain, 327–28
 - in Sweden, 123–25

- Long-term unemployment
 - in Britain, 214–15, 226
 - in Finland, 177–81
 - in Germany, 274
 - in Ireland, 200–201
- Market economies
 - dynamism in, 57–60
 - operating systems, 60–62
- Monetary policy and aggregate goods, 19, 323–25
- Natural rate of unemployment, 2–3
- Netherlands
 - Beveridge curve in, 142–43
 - disability benefits in, 148–50
 - history of unemployment in, 133, 135–39
 - immigrant workers in, 138–39
 - labor market characteristics in, 134–44, 150–54
 - labor market programs in, 147–48
 - measurement of working hours and employment in, 139–42
 - productivity and wages in, 143–44
 - unemployment benefits and labor taxes in, 145–47
 - unions and wage bargaining in, 144–45, 153, 154–55
- Older workers. See Age and unemployment
- Operating systems of market economies, 60–62
- Part-time employment
 - in Britain, 215–16
 - in France, 242–43, 244–45
- Phillips curve, 220–23
- Policies, active labor market. See also Labor market
 - Danish, 78, 82–89
 - Dutch, 147–48
 - Finnish, 176–77
 - French, 256–59, 260–61
 - Irish, 200–203
 - Italian, 312–14
 - Spain, 331–36
 - Swedish, 109–11, 127–28
- Portugal, 332–33
- Private market forces and unemployment, 56
- Private ownership, 60–61
- Productivity slowdowns. See Shocks, economic
- Product markets, deregulation in, 125–26
- Protection
 - employment, 26, 39–41, 123–25
 - social, 63–64
- Public sector employment in Sweden, 114–15
- Real interest rates, 26, 31
 - in Ireland, 194–95
 - in Sweden, 113–14
 - worldwide investment and, 56–57
- Real wage resistance, 27
- Recession
 - in Finland, 159–61, 181–83
 - in Spain, 322
 - structural changes after, 165–67
- Secular shifts in unemployment, 16
- Shadow economies, 302–303, 311
- Shocks, economic, 31. See also Economic shocks
 - in Britain, 220–23, 231
 - in Germany, 276–78
 - in Italy, 307–11
 - in Spain, 321–25
- Shortages, labor, 97–98
- Social policy, 62–64
 - in Germany, 283–84
 - in Ireland, 192–93, 201–202
 - and social security contributions in France, 245–47, 251, 255
- Spain
 - age, gender and unemployment in, 319–21
 - aggregate unemployment rate in, 319
 - collective bargaining in, 329–30
 - compared to Portugal, 332–33
 - economic shocks in, 321–25
 - educational level and unemployment in, 320–21
 - employment protection laws in, 327–28
 - equilibrium unemployment and monetary policy in, 323–25
 - European Monetary Union membership and, 322–23, 336–37
 - evolution of unemployment rate in, 317–21, 338–39
 - family ties in, 330–31

- geographical mobility of workers in, 330–31
- labor market institutions in, 325–31, 337–38
- policy issues in, 331–36
- 1976–1985 recession in, 322
- structural unemployment in, 333–36
- unemployment benefits in, 328–29, 337–38
- wages in, 334
- Stabilization policy in Sweden, 111–13
- Standard pay systems, 91
- Stock models of equilibrium
 - unemployment rate, 24–27
- Structural unemployment. See also Unemployment
 - as an equilibrium phenomenon, 3
 - definition of, 2–3
 - in Denmark, 80–82
 - dimensions to, 4
 - forces, 54–55
 - in Germany, 270
 - in Spain, 333–36
- Supply, labor, 10–16
 - in Ireland, 196–98
- Sweden
 - active labor market policies in, 109–11, 127–28
 - age, gender and unemployment in, 106–109, 119
 - collective bargaining in, 117, 122
 - decline in unemployment in, 120–28
 - demographic changes in, 119
 - deregulation in product markets of, 125–26
 - education, citizenship and unemployment in, 109
 - employment regulations and temporary work in, 123–25
 - equilibrium unemployment in, 119–20
 - government debt in, 121–22
 - monetary and fiscal policy in, 120–22
 - public sector employment in, 114–15
 - real interest rates in, 113–14
 - reasons for rising unemployment in, 111–20
 - rise in unemployment in, 104–105, 111–20
 - 1980s–1990s labor market performance in, 103–104, 128–30
 - stabilization policy in, 111–13
 - structure of unemployment in, 106–109
 - taxes in, 119
 - unemployment insurance and matching in, 117–18, 126–27
 - work hours, absenteeism and cyclical unemployment in, 115–17
- Tax rates, 27, 41–42, 55
 - in Britain, 224–25
 - in Denmark, 95–97
 - in Ireland, 199–200, 202
 - in Italy, 311
 - in Netherlands, 145–47
 - in Sweden, 119
- Temporary work, 123–25
- Terms of trade, shifts in, 27
- Unemployment. See also Structural unemployment
 - age and, 14–16, 29, 79–80, 106–109, 119, 241–42, 275–76, 297–300, 319–21
 - aggregate demand and, 17–19
 - benefit systems, 26, 29–30, 32–36, 55, 82–87, 117–18, 126–27, 145–47, 168–73, 201–202, 225–26, 256–59, 279–84, 328–29, 337–38
 - cyclical, 1–2, 115–17
 - disinflation and, 307–308
 - education level and, 67, 69, 109, 138, 241, 273–74, 320–21
 - equilibrium rate of, 18, 19–27, 119–20
 - gender and, 15–16, 79, 104, 106–109, 191, 197, 215–16, 241–42, 256, 296–97, 319–21
 - geographic mobility, family ties and, 330–31
 - historical patterns in, 16, 42–43
 - inflation and, 19–24
 - labor market institutions and, 28–32
 - labor supply and, 10–16
 - long-term, 177–81, 200–201, 214–15, 226, 274
 - long term fluctuations in, 19–24
 - means for combating, 3–4
 - natural rates of, 2–3
 - policy parameters, 56
 - secular shifts in, 16
 - structural forces and, 2–4, 54–55, 80–82, 270, 333–36
 - variations among European countries, 10–16, 43–46, 53–54

- Unions, labor, 27. See also Labor market
 in Britain, 227–28, 230–31
 in Finland, 173–75
 in Ireland, 198–200
 in Italy, 305–307
 in Netherlands, 144–45
 in Spain, 329–30
 in Sweden, 117, 122
 wage determination and, 36–39
- United Kingdom. See Britain
- United States
 cultural attitudes in, 64–65
 inflation and unemployment in, 269
 investment boom of the 1990s, 66–67
- Variations in unemployment rates among European countries, 10–16, 43–46, 53–54
 1990s theory and, 54–57
- Wages, 26–27
 in Denmark, 75–77, 89–93
 determination systems, 36–39
 in Finland, 173–75
 in France, 252, 253–55
 in Germany, 281–82
 in Ireland, 198–200, 202, 205–206
 in Italy, 303–307
 in Netherlands, 143–44, 144–45, 153, 154– 55
 in Spain, 334
 in Sweden, 117
- Women, employment of, 15–16
 in Britain, 215–16
 in Denmark, 79
 in France, 241–42, 256
 in Ireland, 191, 197
 in Italy, 296–97
 in Netherlands, 191
 in Spain, 319–21
 in Sweden, 104, 106–109
- Work hours
 in France, 248–51
 in Netherlands, 139–42
 in Sweden, 115–17
- Young people and unemployment, 29, 79– 80, 275–76, 299–300. See also Age and unemployment