
Index

- Aerial photography method, for landscape-visibility study, 6–8
- Akizushima Palace, 100, 101
- Akizushima-Yamato type of landscape structure, 95, 98–111
 - and eight-petal peaks, 116
 - examples of, 100–110, 147
 - historical significance of, 98–100, 102
 - psychological meaning of, 95, 99–100, 192
 - structure of, 95, 96, 99–100, 110–111
- Amida Hall, Shiramizu, 155–157
- Angle of depression, 36–46
 - application of, 86, 87, 88
 - experiments on, 36–38, 39–41, 42–43
 - for lake views, 41, 44
 - limit of, 45–46
 - for port views, 38, 41, 42, 43
 - and sense of visual nearness, 41, 45–46
- Angle of elevation, 46–61. See also Slopes
 - vs. angle of depression, 46
 - application of, 86, 88
 - of focus-center-goal, 184
 - laboratory tests on, 56, 58–59
 - Märtens's Rule on, 46–47, 49, 56, 59, 60
 - for mountains, 49–60 (see also specific mountains)
 - at pilgrimage temples, 72
 - in sacred mountain type, 165, 168
- Angle of incidence, 24–30
 - application of, 86, 87
 - and domain viewing, 173, 181
 - for green-hedge mountains, 30
 - for Mount Arashi, 26, 28, 30
 - at Mount Daimonji, 30
 - for Mount Yoshino, 28–30
 - and perception of planes, 24–26, 27, 30
- Appleton, Jay, 90
- Arahara Hill, as domain-viewing type, 177
- Arashi, Mount, 152
 - and atmospheric perspective, 83
 - elevation angle for, 50, 51, 52
 - perception of planes in, 26, 28, 30
 - view of, 22, 23, 56
- Architecture. See Landscape design
- Ashihara, Yoshinobu, 11, 12, 24, 49, 60–61, 171, 184
- Asuka district, 19, 102–106
- Atmospheric conditions
 - and depth, 80, 82, 83, 86, 88
 - and visibility, 16, 17, 18
- Bachelard, Gaston, 173, 181
- Background, as discernibility factor, 11
- Bandai-Inawashiro region, development plan for, 8
- Blockage, and depth of invisibility, 32
- Blumenfeld, Hans, 11
- Bollnow, O. F., 110, 117, 157, 186, 187, 188
- Borrowed landscapes
 - angle of elevation for, 50
 - and Edo period, 22
 - Mount Arashi as, 26, 28
 - Mount Hiei as, 22, 23, 32
 - and visual obstacles, 80
- Boundary
 - of Akizushima-Yamato type, 110, 183
 - function of, 182

- of Mikumari Shrine type, 135, 183
- mountains as, 182, 183
- rivers as, 183
- of sacred mountain type, 171, 183
- of secluded valley type, 144, 183
- of zōfū-tokusui type, 162, 183
- Buddhism
 - and eight-petal lotus blossom, 112, 113, 116, 117
 - paradise of, 84, 85
 - pilgrimages of, 72
 - and secluded valley type, 141, 143
 - sites chosen for, 190–191
 - temples by, 155
- Burial mounds
 - and domain-viewing mountain type, 177–179
 - and sacred mountain type, 179
- Burning character, on Mount Daimonji, 30, 31
- Buttoku, Mount, elevation angle for, 50, 51, 53
- Case study, of Shiga Heights national park, 87, 89–91
- Castles
 - and directionality, 184
 - and domain viewing, 173, 177
 - Himeji, 177, 178
 - and spatiality, 181
- Chausu (Kannabi), Mount, 168, 169
- Cherry blossoms, on mountain slopes, 26, 28, 29, 80
- China
 - geomancy from, 146–147
 - government style from, 106, 110, 148, 157
- Composition. See Spatial structure; Visual structure
- Computers, and digital terrain model, 8–9, 87
- Concave terrain
 - landscape types as, 171
 - at Oyamado Shrine, 126
 - and sense of depth, 72, 76–79
- Convex terrain
 - domain-viewing mountain type as, 171
 - as focus-center-goal, 184
 - sacred mountain type as, 171
 - and sense of depth, 79–80, 81
 - at Tsuge Shrine, 126
- Crescent-shaped Mikumari Shrine subtype, 127, 134–135
- Criteria. See Indexes, of visual landscape structure
- Crowe, Sylvia, 32, 34, 35
- Cullen, Gordon, 35, 45
- Daimonji, Mount
 - burning character on, 30, 31
 - elevation angle for, 50, 51
 - steepness of, 30
- Dantoku, Mount (Ōmi Mountain), 174, 176
- Deformation. See Folding screen effect
- Density gradient, and sense of depth, 62, 65, 66, 67
- Depression, angle of. See Angle of depression
- Depth, 62–84
 - and area of invisibility, 80
 - and atmospheric conditions, 80, 82, 83
 - in combined application, 86, 88
 - and concave terrains, 72, 76–79
 - and convex terrains, 79–80, 81
 - and density gradients, 62, 65, 66, 67
 - Gibson's theory on, 62, 63, 65
 - Japanese view of, 62, 84
 - and overlapping elements, 82–84
 - and sloping surfaces, 66, 70–72
 - and stairways, 72, 73–75
 - study needed on, 90
 - and terrain surfaces, 65–66
 - and valleys, 65, 80, 81
- Depth of invisibility
 - and blockage, 32
 - in combined application, 86, 87
 - and design techniques, 32–35
- Design. See Landscape design
- Design techniques
 - folding screen (deformation), 28
 - for invisibility, 32–35
 - with low-elevation mountains, 56
 - for manipulating depth, 66
 - miegakure* (“now you see it, now you don't”), 84
- Determinants. See Indexes, of visual landscape structure
- Development, 35, 185, 191
- Digital terrain model
 - for landscape-visibility study, 8–9
 - for Shiga Heights development, 87
- Directionality
 - conditions creating, 184, 185
 - in domain-viewing mountain type, 181
 - in eight-petal lotus blossom type, 117
 - function of, 182
 - in Mikumari Shrine type, 135
 - in sacred mountain type, 171
 - in secluded mountain type, 144
 - in zōfū-tokusui type, 162
- Distance factor, 9–22
 - in application of indexes, 86, 88
 - and atmospheric conditions, 16, 17, 18
 - and borrowed landscape, 22
 - historical survey of, 17, 19–22
 - for mountains, 18, 19–23, 29, 30, 51, 168
 - research on, 9, 11
 - standard for, 9, 11–15, 17
 - and trees, 12–15, 17
- Divination. See Geomancy, Chinese
- Domain, as spatial-structure element, 182, 184–185
- Domain-viewing mountain type of landscape structure, 96, 172–181
 - and burial mounds, 177–179
 - examples of, 174–179
 - psychological meaning of, 96, 192
 - structure of, 179, 181
- Dreyfuss, Henry, 38, 40, 45
- East, in ancient Japanese thought, 111
- Ecology, protection of, 35
- Edo
 - mountain viewing from, 20, 22
 - as zōfū-tokusui site, 159, 161
- Egypt
 - vs. Japanese terrain, 100
 - pyramids in, 171
- Eight-petal lotus blossom type of landscape structure, 95, 112–120
 - Buddhist significance of, 112, 113, 116, 117
 - locations of, 112, 114–117

- Eight-petal lotus blossom type (continued)
 psychological meaning of, 192
 structure of, 117, 119
 Elevation, angle of. See Angle of elevation
 Engaku-ji temple, 159, 160
 Entsu-ji, garden of, 22, 32, 80
 Esoteric Buddhism, 112, 113, 116, 117
Existence, Space, and Architecture (Norberg-Schulz), 182
Experience of Landscape, The (Appleton), 90
- Flatlands. See also Plains
 in Akizushima-Yamato type, 110
 and domain-viewing mountain type, 181
 in eight-petal lotus blossom type, 117
 as important to Japan, 96 and Mikumari Shrine type, 135
 in sacred mountain type, 171
 visual obstacles in, 66
- Focus-center-goal
 function of, 182
 requirements for, 183–184
- Folding screen effect, 28, 29, 200 n.9
- Foliage, sacredness of, 170
- Forest. See Trees
- Frontal surfaces, perception of, 24–26
- Fuji, Mount
 elevation angle for, 50, 51, 54, 56, 60
 obsession with, 20, 22
 views of, 60, 72, 76–78, 80, 81, 161, 201 n.6–7
- Fujiwara
 capital at, 19, 106, 147–148
 and Mount Kagu, 174
- Futagi Palace, 106, 109
- Gardens and mountain landscapes, 20, 22, 32
 zōfū-tokusui sites for, 151–157
- Geography, landscape approach to, 5 (See also Spatial structure)
- Geomancy, Chinese, and zōfū-tokusui type, 146–147, 148
- Gestalt psychology and form/color effects, 90 and theory of space perception, 62
- Gibson, J. J., 24, 62, 63, 64
- Giedion, Siegfried, 181
- Golden Pavilion, Temple of (Kinkajū-ji) views from, 20, 21, 50, 51, 55
 zōfū-tokusui site of, 153
- Goldfinger, Ernő, 24, 171, 184
- Gose, as ancient palace area, 100
- Green-hedge mountains. See also Mountains and Akizushima-Yamato type, 99, 102, 110, 111
 in Kuni, 106
 literary references to, 30, 99 and Mikumari shrines, 122
 as viewed from Mount Kagu, 174
- Hachiman Shrines, 157, 158
- Hakodate, view of, 41, 42, 43
- Hall, Edward, 11
- Harima, domain-viewing mountains in, 174, 176–177
- Hase-dera monastery, and secluded valley, 137, 138 139
- Hatsuse
 and Mount Miwa, 165
 as secluded valley, 136–138
- Hegel, Georg Wilhelm Friedrich, 3, 4
- Hegemann, Werner, 48, 49
- Heidegger, Martin, 187
- Hidden Dimension, The* (Hall), 11
- Hiei, Mount
 as borrowed landscape, 22, 23, 32
 elevation angle for, 50, 51
 and visual obstacles, 80
- Hieian. See Kyoto
- Hills, as urban beauty factor, 173–174. See also Mountains
- Himeji Castle, 177, 178
- Hodaka Range, elevation angle for, 51, 55, 56
- Homeland
 features of, 186–188
 landscape as, 185–186, 187–189
- Ieyasu, Tokugawa, 159, 161
- Image of the City* (Lynch), 182
- Imperial palaces. See Palaces
- Incidence, angle of. See Angle of incidence
- Indexes, of visual landscape structure. See also specific indexes combined application of, 86–91, 191 common list of, 3
 Higuchi's, 4, 5, 86–87, 88, 191
 Litton's, 3
 Uehara's, 3
- Invisibility, landscape section. See also Visibility of landscape structure depth of, 32–35, 86, 87
 and sense of depth, 80
 techniques to accomplish, 32–35
- Ise Shrine, 70–72, 82, 95, 184
- Ishikawa, Hideaki, 173–174
- Ishiwara, Shūji, 11
- Itsukushima Shrine, and zōfū-tokusui type, 153–155
- Iwashimizu Hachiman Shrine, 157
- Izumo Province, sacred mountain type of landscape in, 165, 168
- Japan
 in Edo period, 20, 22
 flatlands in, 96
 in Jōmon period, 17, 19
 landscape in, 4, 90, 94–95, 96
- Japanese
 depth as seen by, 84 meaning of landscape for, 161, 186, 192 and nature, 12, 19, 20, 22, 188–189, 191, 205
 n.20
 sightseeing by, 2
 and views from heights, 36, 41
- Jimmu (first emperor of Japan), 19, 95, 98, 100, 199 n.22
- Jung, C. G., and universal archetypes, 193
- Kagu, Mount, 102, 103, 104

- as domain-viewing type, 172, 174, 175, 177
- as Yamato mountain, 106, 147–148, 149
- Kamakura
 - new housing invades, 35
 - and zōfū-tokusui site, 157–160
- Kamei, Katsuichirō, 4, 143
- Kannabi (Chausu), Mount, 168, 169
- Kannabi-Yama*. See Sacred mountain type of landscape structure
- Kanto Plain, as zōfū-tokusui configuration, 161
- Karaki, Junzō, 4, 22, 186, 187, 188, 189
- Kasuga, Mount, 19, 50, 51
- Kasuga Shrine, 170
- Katsuragi, Mount, palaces near, 100–102
- Katsuragi Mikumari Shrine, 127, 130, 131
- Kegel, Augen, 46–47
- Kinkaju-ji. See Golden Pavilion, Temple of
- Kinugasa, Mount, 20, 50, 51
- Kōbō Daishi, mausoleum of, 71, 72, 73. See also Kukai
- Kojima, Usui, 72, 76
- Koya, Mount
 - and directionality, 184
 - as eight-petal peak, 112, 114, 115, 116–117, 184
 - Kōbō Daishi mausoleum at, 71, 72, 73
 - sense of depth at, 70, 80
 - and zōfū-tokusui type, 120, 121
- Kukai, Mt. Koya temple founded by, 116, 117. See also Kōbō Daishi
- Kumano-Nachi district
 - as secluded valley, 138–144
 - sense of depth at, 80
- Kuni district
 - as Akizushima-Yamato type, 106–110
 - origin of name, 100, 172
- Kurobe, Lake, 7
- Kurobe Gorge, 81
- Kyoto
 - mountain view from, 19
 - zōfū-tokusui site of, 95–96, 150, 151, 157
- Lakes, and angle of depression, 41, 44
- Landscape design
 - and approach of this book, 5
 - method for, 184–185
 - and natural order, 94, 189
 - and spatial images, 90, 192, 193
 - and spatial structure, 184–185, 191, 192
 - techniques for, 82, 32–35, 56, 66, 84
 - and visual structure, 191
- Landscapes. See also Spatial structure; Terrain; Visual structure
 - definition of, 6
 - ecological protection of, 35
 - in harmony with utilization, 185, 191
 - as homeland, 185–186, 187–189
 - Japanese, 4, 90, 94–95
 - Japanese word for, 153
 - meaning to Japanese, 161, 186, 188–189
 - and spiritual experience, 173, 174 (see also Reverence; Sacredness)
- Landscapes, study of
 - approaches to, 4–5
 - and beauty, 90
 - and indexes of visual structure, 5
- Landscape spaces, seven types of, 95–96, 191, 192. See also specific types
- Land utilization
 - harmful to ecology, 35
 - in harmony with nature, 185, 191
- Lao-tse, 192
- Lighting, index of, 4, 86, 88
- Litton, R. B., Jr., 3
- Longitudinal surfaces
 - perception of, 24–26
 - and sense of depth, 62–66
- Lynch, Kevin, 182
 - on harmonious development, 191
 - on homeland, 187
 - on level of obstacles, 32
 - on nodes, 181
 - on rivers, 183
 - on sacredness, 165
 - on slopes, 72
- Maeyama (Otachi Mountain), 174, 176
- Märtens, Hans, 3, 9, 11, 12
- Märtens's Rule, on angle of elevation, 46–47, 49, 50, 56, 58, 59, 60
- Mashū, Lake, 44, 45
- Meadow, in eight-petal lotus blossom type, 116. See also Flatlands; Plains
- Miegakure* (“now you see it, now you don’t”), as illusion of depth, 84
- Mikasa, Mount, 168, 170
- Mikumari Shrines. 123–127, 128–133, 184
- Mikumari Shrine type of landscape structure, 95, 122–135
 - distances of views in, 19
 - focus-center-goal in, 184
 - locations of, 123–127, 128–133
 - psychological meaning of, 95, 192
 - structure of, 19, 123, 126, 127, 134–135
 - and water-distributing god, 122–123, 126
- Miminashi mountain, 106, 147–148, 149, 174
- Minkowski, Eugene, 187
- Misaka Pass, Mt. Fuji viewed from, 76, 77
- Mitachi Mountain (Mount Tachioka), 174, 176
- Miwa, Mount
 - and Hatsuse, 137, 138
 - palaces near, 102
 - as sacred mountain type, 164, 165–168, 192
- Miyajima (Island), beauty of, 153
- Morioka, and zōfū-tokusui type, 161–162
- Mountains. See also Green-hedge mountains
 - angle of elevation for, 49–60
 - as boundary, 182, 183
 - distances viewed from, 18, 19–23, 29, 30, 51, 168
 - and eight-petal lotus blossom type, 117
 - and Mikumari Shrine type, 127, 135
 - and secluded valley type, 136, 138, 144
 - in zōfū-tokusui type, 162
- Mountains of Yamato, 106, 147–148, 149, 174
- Murō-ji nunnery, and eight-petal lotus blossom type, 117, 118, 119
- Myōhō, Mount, 140, 141, 142, 144

- Nachi, Mount, 141
 Nachi Bay, 141, 142
 Nachi River valley, 141, 142
 Nachi Waterfall, 140, 141
 Nagaoka, and zōfū-tokusui type, 148
 Nakai, Masakazu, 3, 189
 Nakamura, Teiichi, 11
 Nakamura, Yoshio, 8
 Naniwa, capital at, 102, 110
 Nantai, Mount, elevation angle of, 50, 51, 55, 56, 57
 Nara
 capital at, 102, 106, 110
 view of mountains in, 19, 56, 57
 zōfū-tokusui site of, 106, 148, 149, 151
 Nara mountains, 165, 168
 Nature. See also Landscapes beauty of, 2–3, 4–5
 conformity to, 190–191
 development in harmony with, 191
 insensitivity toward, 94, 191
 Japanese feeling for, 12, 19, 20, 22, 188–189, 205 n.20
 Nature worship, 141, 168, 173, 177, 190. See also Sacredness
 Nearness, sense of, and angle of depression, 41, 45–46
 Node, as spatial element, 138, 144, 181
 Norberg-Schulz, Christian on experienced space, 184, 186
 on function of landscape, 188, 189 and Higuchi's typology, 182
 on homeland, 187
 on image of landscape, 185–186
 on levels of space, 94, 161
 le Nôtre, André, 80
 N spaces, 171, 184
 Obstacles, visual. See Invisibility, landscape section; Visual obstacles
 Okunoin. See Koya, Mount
 Ōmi Mountain (Mount Dantoku), 174, 176
 Optics, physiological and angle of elevation, 47
 angle of incidence in, 26
 and effect of distance, 11
 Origuchi, Shinobu, 4–5, 84, 99, 174
 Osaka, considered for capital, 161. See also Naniwa
 Otachi Mountain (Maeyama), 174, 176
 Otome Pass, Mt. Fuji viewed from, 76, 77, 78
 Ōtsukayama Burial Mound, 178, 179
 Ōtsuki, Fumihiko, 99
 Overlap, and sense of depth, 82–84
 Oyama, Haruo, 191
 Oyamado Mikumari Shrine, 123–126
 Palaces
 in Akizushima-Yamato landscape, 100–102
 zōfū-tokusui sites for, 147–150
 Peets, Elbert, 48, 49
 Perception of planes. See Angle of incidence; Depth; Depth of invisibility Perception of space. See Depth; Visual perception of space; Visual structure Perspective drawings, and sense of depth, 66, 69
 Piazza del Campidoglio, Rome, 48, 80
 Piazza del Campo, Siena, 135
 Piazza del Popolo, 180, 181
 Piazza di San Pietro, Rome, 48
 Plains, and secluded valleys, 144. See also Flatlands
 Planes, landscape as, 24. See also Angle of incidence; Depth; Depth of invisibility Political authority and domain viewing, 172, 173, 177, 179
 highway symbol of, 157, 159
 and Tsuge Shrine, 126
 Ports, and angle of depression, 38, 41, 42, 43
 Problems for study of universalizing spatial forms, 192–193
 of visual structure, 90
 P spaces, 171
 Psychology
 Gestalt, 62, 90
 Jung's universal unconscious, 193 of landscape structures, 95–96, 192 (see also types of spatial structure)
 Pure Land Buddhism, 84, 155
 Research
 on angle of depression, 36–41, 42–43 on angle of elevation, 56, 58–59
 on effect of distance, 9, 11, 14, 16–17
 Märtens's on angle of elevation, 46–47, 49 needed, 90, 192–193
 Reverence. See also Sacredness and landscape viewing, 173, 174 “looking up to” as, 46
 toward nature, 94, 190–191
 and slopes, 72, 126
 Rikuchu National Maritime Park, 10
 Rivers
 as boundary, 183
 in Japan, 96
 and Mikumari Shrine type, 135
 in sacred mountain type, 165, 168, 171
 and secluded valleys, 144
 Sacred mountain type of landscape structure, 96, 164–171, 181
 and burial mounds, 179
 definition of, 164
 examples of, 164–170
 psychological meaning of, 96, 192
 and religious concepts, 96, 164
 structure of, 165, 171
 Sacredness. See also Nature worship; Reverence and conformity to existing landscape, 190–191 of foliage, 170
 of Mikumari Shrine sites, 126, 135
 of Miyajima, 153
 of secluded valleys, 65, 143, 144
 Saga-in, zōfū-tokusui site for, 151–153, 154
 Sakidama Palace, 147
 Sakuteiki (“Record of Making Gardens”), 147, 151, 162
 Sand, George, 173
 Satō, Hironori, 17
 Satō, Nobuhiro, 161

- Secluded valley type of landscape structure, 95, 136–144
 examples of, 136–144
 focus-center-goal in, 184
 psychological meaning of, 95, 192
 structure of, 136, 144
- Shiga, Shigetaka, 3, 59, 188
- Shiga Heights national park, case study on, 87, 89–91
- Shinohara, Osamu, 41
- Shiramizu Amida Hall, 155–157
- Shiun, Mount, elevation angle for, 50, 51, 56
- Shoden-ji, garden of, 22, 32, 34
- Shōjin Peak, as eight-petal peak, 117, 118, 119
- Shōmu, Emperor, 106
- Sightseeing
 and domain viewing, 177
 Japanese love of, 2
- Silver Pavilion, angle of elevation from, 50, 55
- Sitte, Camillo, 5, 46, 49, 185
- Slopes
 cherry-blossom covered, 28, 29
 and directionality, 184
 and reverence, 72, 126
 and sense of depth, 66, 70–72
 steep vs. gentle, 30, 66, 70, 200 n.3
- Space, levels of, 94. See also Visual structure
- Spatial structure
 and beauty, 90
 boundary in, 182–183 (see also Boundary) directionality in, 182, 184 (see also Directionality) domain of, 182, 184–185
 focus-center-goal in, 182, 183–184
 and landscape design, 184–185, 191, 192 mental image from, 90, 192, 193 seven types of, 95–96, 191, 192 (see also specific types) worldwide archetypes of, 192–193
- Sphere of influence. See Visual sphere of influence
- Spirituality. See Nature worship; Reverence; Sacredness
- Stairways, and sense of depth, 72, 73–75
- Standards. See Indexes, of visual landscape structure
- Streams. See Rivers
- Structure. See Spatial structure; Visual structure
- Sujin, Emperor, 100, 102, 168
- Susumu, Ono, 111
- Tachioka, Mount (Mitachi Mountain), 174, 176
- Tagonoura, Mt. Fuji viewed from, 76, 78
- Takahashi, Takashi, 11, 17
- Take Mikumari Shrine, 127, 132, 133
- Techniques. See Design techniques
- Tenji, Emperor, 102, 147, 165
- Terrain. See also Concave terrain; Convex terrain; Landscapes as foundation for architecture, 94, 189 models of, 6–9
 and sense of depth, 65–66
- Togetsu Bridge, Kyoto, and atmospheric perspective, 83
- Tokyo. See Edo
- Tokyo Tower, angle-of-depression studies at, 36–38, 39, 45
- Tomi, Mount, 137, 138
- Trees. See also Foliage
 in Akizushima-Yamato type, 110
 as distance-standards, 12–15, 17
 and sacred mountain type, 165
- Triangular Mikumari Shrine subtype, 127, 134–135
- Tsuge Mikumari Shrine, 123, 124, 126–127
- Tsukuba, Mount
 elevation angle for, 50, 51, 56
 and mountain waters, 123
 and view from Edo, 20, 22 161
- Tsurugaoka Hachiman Shrine, 158
- Twenty-first Century Research Society, city design by, 161
- Types of spatial structure, 95–96, 191–192. See also specific types
- Uda Mikumari Shrine, 123, 126, 127, 128, 129
- Uehara, Keiji, 3
- Unebi mountain, 106, 147–148, 149, 174
- Universal spatial archetypes, 192–193
- Urban beauty, hills contribution to, 173–174
- Urban Design Institute, Tokyo University, digital terrain model by, 8
- Urban provinciality, and feeling for mountains, 22
- Urban redevelopment, and elements of structure, 185
- Urban spaces, distance-studies for, 9, 11
- Utilization. See Land utilization
- Valleys. See also Secluded valley type of landscape structure and Mikumari Shrine type, 135
 and sense of depth, 65, 80, 81
- Venice, and narrow Japanese valleys, 192
- Versailles, park at, 80
- Views. See spatial structure; Visual structure
- Visibility frequency, in Shiga Heights planning, 87
- Visibility of landscape structure. See also Depth of invisibility aerial-photography study of, 6–8
 in application of indexes, 86, 87, 88 digital terrain model for, 8–9 study of, 6
- Vision, human, and angle of depression, 38, 40, 200 n.1. See also Optics, physiological
- Visual obstacles. See also Invisibility, landscape section in flatlands, 66
 and sense of depth, 80
- Visual perception of space, Gibson's theory on, 62–63, 65. See also Depth; Visual structure
- Visual sphere of influence of sacred mountain type, 171
 in Shiga Heights planning, 90, 91
- Visual structure. See also Landscapes common distinctions on, 3
 Higuchi's indexes of, 4, 86–87, 88, 191 (see also specific indexes)
 and landscape design, 184–185, 191
- Litton's factors in, 3
- Märtens's analysis of, 3
- problems for examination in, 90
- Uehara's elements of, 3

Wada, Yōhei, 60
 Wakigami Palace, 100, 101
 Water-distributing god, and Mikumari-shrine type, 122–123, 126
 Weather. See Atmospheric conditions

 Yamashiro Provincial Temple, 107, 109
 Yamato, mountains of, 106, 147–148, 149, 174
 “Yamato,” origin of, 19, 98–99
 Yamato Plain
 and Akizushima-Yamato type, 101, 102, 106
 and Hatsuse, 136, 138
 and Mount Miwa, 165, 168
 and zōfū-tokusui type, 148
 Yanagita, Kunio, 4, 122–123, 191
 Yokohama harbor, view of, 41, 42
 Yoshida, Tōgo, 26
 Yoshino, Mount
 charm of, 28, 80, 143, 201 n.9
 perception of planes of, 28–30
 sense of depth at, 78, 79, 80
 Yoshinobu, Ashihara, 72, 73

 Zen Buddhism, Kamakura establishments of, 159
 Zōfū-tokusui type of landscape structure, 95–96, 146–162
 and Chinese geomancy, 95, 146–147, 148
 examples of, 95–96, 106, 147–162
 psychological meaning of, 192
 structure of, 146–147, 162