

Index

- Access to public water and sewer, by race.
See also Population density, and access to public water and sewer; Public water and sewer systems; Segregation, residential, and access to public water and sewer
- in Baltimore, 1915, 44–45
 - in Cambridge, 1897, 45, 62, 211
 - in Gary (Ind.), 1922, 44–45
 - in Jacksonville (Fla.), circa 1910, 83–84
 - in Memphis, 1880, 69–73, 91, 201
 - in Savannah, circa 1900, 75–79, 91, 201
 - in Shaw (Miss.), 1968, 93–94
 - in Southern cities and towns, 1897, 45–46, 211
 - in United States, 1960, 105–115
 - in Washington, D.C., 45–46
- Allentown, Pa., 42, 44
- Apopka, Fla., 101–104
- Arcadia, Fla., 101–104, 202
- Atlanta, Ga., 7, 11, 37, 179, 209–213, 215, 217–218
- Bakke. See University of California v. Bakke*
- Baltimore, Md., 7, 28, 31–33, 42, 44–45, 58, 73, 83–84, 179
- Brown v. Board of Education*, 93–94, 98–100, 114
- Brunner, William, 89–91, 206
- Budd, William, 22–23
- Cambridge, Mass., 45, 62, 210–215, 217–218
- Charleston, S. C., 42, 90, 117
- Chicago, Ill., 26–28, 33, 144–146, 161
- Civil Rights Movement, 1, 5, 101 and access to public water and sewer services, 93–95, 98–100, 105, 114, 203
(see also Hawkins v. Shaw)
- Convergence in black-white mortality, 2–3
- in Jacksonville, 86–87
 - in Memphis, 72–73, 201
 - in North and South, 4–8, 124, 126–128
 - in a panel of U.S. cities, 117–128, 135, 146–152, 202–204
 - in Pittsburgh, 53–57, 201–204
 - public water and sewer systems, as a source of, 9–11, 15, 60–63, 179–185
 - rural versus urban, 4–8
 - in Savannah, 78–81, 201
 - in segregated cities, 127, 129–131, 133–135, 186–187, 205
 - in Washington, D.C., 154–156
 - water filtration, as a source of, 9–11, 14, 53–57, 60–63, 117–127, 135, 146–152, 154–156, 202–204
- Costa, Dora, 21
- Cumberland, Md., 5, 7
- Dade City, Fla., 101–104
- Death Registration Area, 2
- Delray Beach, Fla., 101–102, 104
- Diarrhea, infantile. See also Public water and sewer systems; Water filtration and chlorination
- and breast feeding, 28–29, 32
 - long-term health effects, 9–10, 17, 20, 223n10
 - long-term trends in mortality, 46–49
 - transmission mechanisms, 9, 17, 28–29, 32–33
- Difference in black-white mortality rate, as an indicator of unequal treatment. See Measuring interracial disparities

- Discrimination, costs of, in relation to public water and sewer systems, 9–10, 13, 35, 38, 71, 97, 104–105, 204–205, 207–208
- Disease spillovers, 8, 10–12. See also Growth in public water and sewer systems, and and access to public water and sewer, 12, 13, 65, 73, 91, 188–189 and the case for extending water and sewer lines to black homes, 12–13, 65, 73 (see also Brunner, William; Terry, C. E.)
and city size, 43 limited to typhoid, 188–189, 206 perceptions of, 13, 88–92, 153 and racism, 88–92, 206 and segregation, 13–14, 38, 74–75, 134–135, 153, 204, 206–207, 235n4 statistical evidence of, 14, 130, 132–135, 205–207 and water filtration, 130, 132–135
- Disease, theories of. See Miasmatic theory of disease; Typhoid fever and the germ theory of disease
- Doyle, Don H., 11, 153–154, 206
- Durham, N. C., 37, 164
- Epidemics. See Disease spillovers
- Esrey, S. A., 30
- Ewbank, Douglas, 11
- Externalities. See Disease spillovers
- Fort Myers, Fla., 101–102, 202
- Galishoff, Stuart, 11
- Gary, Ind., 44–45, 83–84
- General Statistics of Cities*, reliability as a data source, 38–40
- “Germs know no color-line.” See Disease spillovers
- Germ theory of disease. See Typhoid fever, and
- Gilmore v. Montgomery*, 98–99
- Green v. New Kent County*, 98–99
- Growth in public water and sewer systems. See also Public water and sewer systems and disease spillovers, 91, 195–199, 206 in New Orleans, 25–26 responsiveness to changes in black and white population, 15, 188, 190–195, 203
in Savannah, 75
and segregation, 195–199
- Haines, Michael, 2–4, 11
- Hawkins v. Shaw*, 93–94, 96–102, 105, 114
- Hazen, Allen, 49–50
- Higgs, Robert, 8, 207–208
- Illiteracy
black and white, 53
and private disease prevention, 52–53, 227n30 (see also Personal behavior and disease prevention)
- Jacksonville, Fla., 13, 52, 65, 73, 80, 90, 170, 213, 215, 217–218. See also Terry, C. E.
anti-typhoid ordinance, 84–87, 91
black access to public water and sewer, 82–84 flies and typhoid in, 81–86, 91 public sewer system, 82–84, 206, 211 public water system, 84–86, 206, 211 segregation, residential, in, 81–83 typhoid confused with malaria in, 171–174 typhoid rates in, 84–87
Johnson v. Arcadia, 103
- Kennedy Park v. Lackawanna*, 103
- Khosla, S. N., 20
- Koppes, Clayton R., 11, 51, 53
- Lackawanna, N.Y., 101–104
- Lexington, Ky., 37
- Life expectancy, trends in. See Mortality, trends in
- Lynchburg, Va., 5, 7, 127
- Malaria, 23, 95, 97. See also Typhoid fever and malaria, confusion of
- Mallon, Mary, 18, 223n5
- Measuring interracial disparities, 14, 15.
See also Panel data, analysis of assumptions, 163, 168–169, 202–203 estimated relationship between waterborne diseases and water quality, by race, 163–169 formal model of waterborne diseases and water quality, 121–122, 157–163, 202 preferability of differences to ratios, 168 robustness of differences and ratios, 121–122, 124, 130, 135, 146, 152–163, 167–

- 168, 203, 221n3, 232n3, 232n4, 232n5, 232n7
- Medical care and typhoid fever (see Typhoid fever, medical treatment of)
and African-Americans, 23, 88–90, 170–171, 174, 176–177
- Meeker, Edward, 141
- Melosi, Martin, 11, 40
- Memphis, Tenn., 12–13, 37–38, 43, 65, 83, 91, 179, 201, 204–206. See also Yellow fever Bayou Gayoso, 68, 70–71
black mortality, trends in, 72–73
Chelsea area, 68–72
public sewer system in, 67–71, 73–74
residential segregation in, 71, 74–75, 78, 91
South Memphis area, 68–71 unsanitary conditions in, 66–67
white mortality, trends in, 72–73
- Miasmatic theory of disease, 22, 66
- Mills-Reincke phenomenon. See Hazen, Allen
- Minneapolis, Minn., 42
- Mississippi Delta, 95–96
- McKeown, Robert, 12, 208
- Mortality, trends in. See also Convergence in black-white mortality
1900–1940, 1–4, 46–50
1960–present, 1–4
intercity variation, 6–8
North-South differences, 5, 8 rural-urban differences, 4–5, 8, 10 and waterborne diseases, 10–11, 46–50 (see also Diarrhea; Typhoid fever; Waterborne diseases)
- Nashville, Tenn., 153–154, 179, 206, 210–212, 217–218
- Negro Mortality Project (NMP), the, 44, 209 benefits of public water and sewer for blacks, 60–63 black access to public water and sewer, according to, 45–46 cities studied, 45–46, 210–211 declustering procedure, 45–46, 213–217 origins, 45, 209
sampling techniques, 45, 210, 212
waterborne disease rates, 60–63, 218–219
- New Orleans, La., 7, 25–26, 33, 42, 73
- Norfolk, Va., 38, 180
- Norris, William P., 11, 51, 53
- North Carolina, 5, 25, 160
water quality and mortality from waterborne diseases in, 163–169
- Norwood v. Harris*, 98–99
- Panel data, analysis of. See also Convergence in black-white mortality; Measuring interracial disparities; Water filtration and chlorination cities in panel, 117–119 controlling for trends, 120, 137–152 data, reliability of, 169–177 estimated benefits of water filtration, 119–131, 146–151 estimated magnitude of disease spillovers, 130, 132–134
- Personal behavior and disease prevention. See also Illiteracy examples of, 11, 51–52, 138–139, 167 importance of, in unhealthy environments, 57–60 variation across socioeconomic groups, 11, 35, 51–60, 63, 167, 204
- Philadelphia, Penn., 26–27, 33, 43, 144–146, 179
- Pittsburgh, Penn., 29–30, 53–57, 74, 117, 179, 201–204
- Population, percent urban, 10
- Population density, and access to public water and sewer, 8, 62, 98, 192, 202
- Population growth. See Growth in public water and sewer systems
- Prattville, Ala., 104–105
- Preston, Samuel H., 11, 51
- Private wells. See Surface wells
- Privies, dangers of, 17–18, 24, 67–69, 82–84, 86–92
- Public water and sewer systems. See also Access to public water and sewer systems, by race; Convergence in black-white mortality; Disease spillovers; Growth in public water and sewer systems; Population density and access to; Segregation, residential, and access to; Water filtration and chlorination and city size, 40–43 contribution to decline in total mortality, 35, 46–50, 62–63 costs of connecting to, 70, 87 development as of 1890 (sewers), 74

- Public water and sewer systems (cont.)
 development as of 1909 (sewers), 35, 37–43, 97
 development as of 1915 (water), 35, 37–43 development in North and South, 39–42, 84, 107–109
 and diarrhea mortality, 24, 30–33, 57–63, 97 financing of, 68, 104–105, 123–124 social returns of, 207, 224n33 and typhoid mortality, 9, 24–26, 51–57, 60–63, 97
- Racism, and the case for universal access to public water and sewer services. See Terry, C. E.; Brunner, William
- Ratio of black-white mortality rates, as an indicator of unequal treatment. See Measuring interracial disparities
- Richmond, Va., 7, 37, 170, 172, 174–177, 180
- St. Paul, Minn., 42
- Savannah, 12, 13, 37, 43, 65, 73, 83, 90–91, 127, 179, 201, 204–205, 209, 211, 217–218. See also Yellow fever
 black mortality, trends in, 78–81
 public sewer system in, 75–77
 public water system in, 75–76, 78–79
 residential segregation in, 74–78
 white mortality, trends in, 78–81
 Yamacraw area, 76
- Sedgwick, William T., 49–50
- Segregation, residential. See also Apopka; Arcadia; Atlanta; Dade City; Disease spillovers and segregation; Durham; Jacksonville; Lackawanna; Lexington; Memphis; Richmond; Savannah; Shaw and access to public water and sewer, 7, 10, 13–14, 35–38, 71, 91, 97–98, 103–104, 127, 129–131, 186–187, 195–198, 204–205 and efficacy of water filtration, 127, 129–131, 133–135, 205 evolution of, 10, 35–38, 97–98, 103–104, 204–205 measures of, 36, 78, 127
 and segregation ordinances, 36–38, 103
 Shaw, Miss., 14, 93–94, 101–104, 201–203.
See also Hawkins v. Shaw
 as an atypical town, 96–97, 114–115 geographic setting, 95–97 historical development, 95–96
 Surface wells, dangers of, 17–18, 24–25, 67, 97
Swann v. Charlotte, 98–99
 Szreter, Simon, 12
- Tarr, Joel, 11, 40, 87
- Terry, C. E., 14, 65, 86, 206–207 on flies and typhoid, 81–82, 84–85 on need to install sewers in black neighborhoods, 82–83, 88–92 racism of, 80, 88, 206 on unsanitary health practices of blacks, 80–82, 88–89, 92
- Tuberculosis, 9, 20, 21, 50, 81 mortality rates, trends in, 49 racial disparities in mortality, 49, 66, 89
- Typhoid fever. See also Panel data, analysis of; Personal behavior and disease prevention; Public water and sewer systems; Water filtration and chlorination case fatality rate, 20, 24 complications, 19–22 diagnosis, 18–20, 23, 33, 138, 171–172, 219 and the germ theory of disease, 22–23, 33, 138, 171–172 incidence v. mortality, 48–49, 170–171, 176–177, 218–219 long-term health effects of, 9–10, 17, 20–22, 33, 48–49
 long-term trends in mortality, 46–49, 119–124
 and malaria, confusion of, 23, 47, 170–178, 218–219 medical treatment of, 17, 22–24, 170–171 racial differences in mortality, 9, 18–19, 55–57, 66, 84–87, 119, 173–177 (see also Convergence in black-white mortality) resiliency of bacteria, 51–52 seasonality of deaths, 132 seasonality of disease, 19 symptoms, 19–20 transmission mechanisms, 8–9, 17–19, 22, 28–29, 52, 157 (see also Jacksonville, flies and typhoid in) vaccination, efficacy of, 17, 24, 33
- Typhoid Mary. See Mary Mallon
- University of California v. Bakke*, 98–99

- Waring, George, 38, 67–68
- Washington v. Davis*, 99–101
- Washington, D.C., 60–62, 137, 210–211, 214–215, 217–218. See also Access to public water and sewer, by race effects of water filtration in, 139–144, 154–156
- Waterborne diseases. See also Diarrhea; Measuring interracial disparities; North Carolina; Public water and sewer systems; Typhoid fever; Water filtration and chlorination
- and African-Americans, 60–63, 218–219
- and reductions in mortality, 46–50, 62–63, 208
- population infected, 1900, 47–48, 218–219
- racial differences in mortality, 60–63, 73, 81, 164–165, 182, 184–185
- Water filtration and chlorination. See also Convergence in black-white mortality; Public water and sewer systems; Segregation, residential and diarrhea mortality, 27–31 and overall mortality, 9–11 prevalence as of 1915, 40 social returns of, 207 and typhoid mortality, 9, 11, 24, 26–28, 51–57 (see also Panel data, analysis of)
- Watson v. Memphis*, 98–99
- Wells. See Surface wells
- Whipple, George C., 21
- Woodward, C. Vann, 36
- Wright, Almroth, 24
- Wright, Gavin, 1, 221n1
- Yellow fever, 95, 97
- early understanding of, 65–69
- epidemiology, 65–66
- as an impetus to build large and inclusive public sewer systems, 63, 73–75