

Index

Note: t refers to a table and f refers to a figure

- AAR. See After action review
- Absorptive capacity, 259–260
- Accenture, 345–347, 350
- Acquisition and application tools. See Technology, knowledge acquisition and application
- Ad hoc sessions, 113
- Adaptive systems, 208–209
- Adaptive technologies, 302–303
- AES, 332
- Aesop's fables, for capturing knowledge, 110
- Affective domain, Bloom's Taxonomy, 191, 195–196
- After action review, 55, 287, 314, 348, 378
- Albridge Solutions, 446
- Al-Hawamdeh, Suleiman, 382, 398, 412
- Analysis
gap, 322–325
market basket, 273
- Anarchy model. See Information politics
- Andriessen, D., 344
- Anklam, P., 150
- Application of knowledge. See Knowledge
application
- APQC model of best practice evolution,
165–166
- Argyris, Chris, 43, 120, 249, 370
- Army's After Action Review. See After action review
- ARPANET, 17, 156
- Artefacts. See Culture
- Artificial intelligence, 32, 297
- Assessing knowledge management. See
Evaluating knowledge management
- Assessing organizational learning. See
Evaluation of organizational learning
- Attributes of knowledge management, 13–15
- Balanced scorecard method, 345–353
- Beer, Stafford, 68, 85–86, 93
- Benchmarking, 345–351
- Bennet, Alex, 85–86
- Bennet, D., 85–86
- Best practices, 2–4, 11, 16, 22, 24–25, 35, 40, 54, 69, 72, 90, 92, 102, 105, 109, 112–120,
160–165, 185–186, 192, 195, 198, 213, 231,
250–255, 278–279, 287, 294–295, 304, 366,
368, 378, 379, 381
- Bhatt, G., 89
- Blogs, 274–275
- Blood, Rebecca, 274
- Bloom, T., 188, 191–198, 211
- Bloom's taxonomy, 191–198
- Boisot, M., 19, 82–84, 429
- Boisot I-Space KM model, 82–84
- Bounded rationality principle, 73, 75–76
- Bouthillier, France, 131, 443
- Brainstorming, 231, 252

- Bristol-Myers Squibb, 445
British Petroleum, 155, 287
British Telecommunications, 208
Broadband communication, 208
Brown Seely, John, 289
BSC. See Balanced scorecard method
Buckman Labs, 247–249, 332, 345, 432, 437
Bukowitz and Williams, KM cycle, 38–42
Bukowitz, W., 33, 38–42, 52
Bush, V, 99
Business intelligence, 131, 133
- Canadian International Development Agency, 163–164
Canadian Treasury Board, 356
Canon Inc., 68
Capability Maturity Model, 238, 242
Capacity, absorptive. See Absorptive capacity
Capital. See Intangible assets
Capturing knowledge. See also Tacit knowledge
ad hoc sessions, 113
Aesop's fables, 110
defined, 99–100
e-learning, 115–117, 214–215
interviewing experts, 104–107
knowledge engineering, 103
learning by being told, 107–111 learning by observation, 113
learning histories, 115
at the organizational level (see Organizational knowledge capture) road maps, 113–114
storytelling, 107–110
Carnegie Mellon Software Engineering Institute, 238
CBT. See Computer-based training
Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 291
Chapparral Steel, 16
Characteristics of knowledge, 2
Chat rooms, 271, 281–285
Chevron, 287, 345–347
- Chief Knowledge Officer. See Knowledge management team, roles
Chief Learning Officer. See Knowledge management team, roles
Choo, Chun Wei, 73–76, 87, 302, 381–382, 384–385, 389
Choo Sense-making KM model, 73–76, 87
CIBC, 432
CIDA. See Canadian International Development Agency
CKO. See Chief Knowledge Officer
CLO. See Chief Learning Officer
Cluster analysis, 127–129, 271
CMM. See Capability Maturity Model
CMMI. See Carnegie Mellon Software Engineering Institute
CMS. See Content Management System
Coca-Cola Company, 333
Codifying, explicit knowledge, 100, 121
cognitive maps, 121–123
decision trees, 123–124
knowledge taxonomies, 124–131
Cognitive domain, Bloom taxonomy of, 191–193
Cognitive maps, 121–123
Cohen, W. M., 260
Coleman, J., 170
Collaboration technologies, 281–285
Collaboration tools. See Collaboration technologies
Colleges, invisible. See Invisible colleges
Communication systems, 232
Communication technologies. See Communication systems
Community of practice (CoP)
APQC model of best practice evolution, 165–166
defined, 145
evaluation of, 359–360
history of, 154–157
knowledge broker, 163
Knowledge services, KSO (Knowledge Support Office), 163

- learning in, 175
- maturity model, 244–245
- roles and responsibilities, 160–163
- sharing knowledge in, 145–147, 154–157
- technologies, 164–165
- types of, 158–160
- virtual, 166
- yellow pages (see Yellow Pages)
- Competitive intelligence, 131, 133
- Complex adaptive system KM model, 85–89
- Complex adaptive systems, 85–89
- Computer-based learning. See Computer-based training
- Computer-based training, 297
- Concept analysis, 11–15
- Concept mapping, 122
- Connectionism, 63
- Content creation tools, 269–271, 276
- Content management tools, 276–277
- Continuity management. See Knowledge continuity
- CoP. See Community of practice
- Corporate amnesia, 23, 366, 372, 376, 390
- Corporate memory, 16–17, 35, 185, 366–368, 372–377, 382–384
- Corporate wikis. See Wikis
- Corporate yellow pages. See Yellow Pages
- Creation of knowledge
 - in the Boisot model, 82–85
 - in the Choo model, 73–76
 - in the Complex adaptive system model, 85–89
 - in the European Foundation for Quality Management model, 89–90
 - in the integrated KM cycle, 51–54
 - in the Inukshuk model, 90–91
 - in the Nonaka and Takeuchi model, 61–72
- Process, 2, 7, 48, 51–54
 - in the Von Krogh and Roos model, 62–64
 - in the Wiig model, 76–82
- Creative Commons Agreement, 434–435
- Crossan, M., 101, 384
- Crossan, Lane, and White's 4I model, 101
- Culture,
 - analysis of, 229–232
 - barriers to change of, 259–260
 - communication systems, 232
 - defined, 225–227
 - effects of on individuals, 235–237
 - knowledge-sharing, 229, 232–234, 240, 246–256
 - history of, 224–225, 232
 - impact of a merger on, 256–257
 - impact of virtualization on, 258
 - norms, 226–227, 230–233, 235–236, 246, 249, 258, 260
 - organizational analysis, 229–232
 - politics of organizational culture, 427–429
 - transformation into knowledge-sharing culture, 246–250
 - transparency, 253
 - types of, 227–229
 - workplace design and redesign, 250–252
- Cultural change needed to succeed in KM, 224–227
- Customer capital. See Social capital
- Cybernetics. See Viable System Model
- Data, defined, 60
- Data mining and knowledge discovery, 271–274
- Data mining tools, 271–274
- Davenport, Tom, 2, 3, 6, 12, 60, 67, 214, 293, 344–345, 382, 407, 427
- Decision making
 - defined, 71–72
 - in the Choo model, 73–76
 - in the Wiig model, 80–89
- Decision support systems, 297–299
- Decision trees, 123–124
- Dell Inc., 408
- Denning, Steven, 15, 107, 109, 386, 437
- Dow Chemical, 431–432
- Drucker, Peter, 2, 16, 289
- Duguid, P., 145, 147, 157, 289
- Dynamic profiling. See Personalization

- E-learning, 115–117, 214–215
- Edvinsson, Leif, 19, 335, 432
- Electronic Performance Support Systems, 201–206
- Emergence, 303
- Employee loyalty, 174
- Enterprise portals. See Portals
- EPSS. See Electronic Performance Support Systems
- Ericsson Inc, 146
- Ethics, 413–419
- European Foundation for Quality Management (EFQM) KM model, 89–90
- Evaluating communities of practice. See Community of practice, evaluating
- Evaluating knowledge management
 - balanced scorecard method of, 345–353
 - benchmarking method of, 345–351
 - house of quality method of, 354–356
 - intangible asset monitor, Sveiby, 345, 433
 - process of, 345
 - results-based method of, 356–358
 - Skandia Navigator, 344–345, 432
 - strategy for, 340–343
- Evaluating organizational learning, 369–370
- Expertise locator system. See Yellow Pages
- Explicit knowledge
 - codification, 98–100, 102–104
 - defined, 3
 - sharing, 143, 145, 163
 - tacit vs., 9–11
- Extensible Markup Language, 276

- Fables, for capturing knowledge, 101
- Facilitators, community. See Community of practice roles and responsibilities
- Federalism model. See Information politics
- Feudalism model. See Information politics
- Filtering tools, intelligent, 298–302
- Folksonomies. See Social tagging
- Ford Company, 330–331
- Forrester Group KM Model, 242–243
- Fragmented cultures. See Culture

- Frappalo, C., 99
- Fujitsu Organizational Maturity Model. See Maturity models
- Future challenges for KM, 440–441

- Gap analysis, 322–325
- GE. See General Electric
- Gemeinschaft*, defined, 122
- General Electric, 69, 254
- Gery, Gloria, 7, 201
- Gesellschaft*, defined, 122
- Girard, John, 90, 395
- Gladwell, Malcolm, 250, 252
- Granovetter, M., 170, 289
- Ground truth, 32
- Groupware. See Collaboration Technologies

- Hardin, G., 159
- Hill and Knowlton, 261
- History, of KM, 15–19, 24–25
- Holistic approach to KM, 60
- Honda Motor Company Ltd., 67
- House of Quality, 354–356
- HSC. See Hughes Space and Communications
- Huber, J., 120
- Hughes Space and Communications, 199
- Human capital, 170, 335

- Iaccoca Institute, 2–3
- IBM Corporation, 85–86, 111, 290
- ICAS. See Intelligent Complex Adaptive Systems model
- ICL Ltd, 146, 256
- Importance of KM today, 22–24
- Incentives, 248, 259
 - for knowledge sharing, 169, 173, 435–440
- Information
 - cycle, 35–37
 - defined, 60
 - digital, 32
 - overload, 23–24
 - politics, models of, 427–429
- Information literacy, 39, 142

- Information politics, models of, 427–429
- Information resources management, 318
- Information seeking, 142–144
- Infosys KM Maturity Model, 239–242
- Infrastructure capital, 317
- Inkpen, A., 102, 120
- Innovation. See KM objectives
- Intangible assets, 19–20, 333–336, 429–433
- Intangible Asset Monitor, Sveiby, 345
- Integrated KM cycle, 51–54
- Intellectual assets. See Intangible assets
- Intellectual capital. See Intangible assets
- Intellectual capital approach vs. KM, 3
- Intellectual capital management, 3, 19–20
- Intellectual property, 433–435
- Intelligence, artificial. See Artificial intelligence
- Intelligent agents, 298–302
- Intelligent Complex Adaptive Systems Model, (ICAS), 85–89
- Intelligent filtering tools, 298–302
- Interdisciplinary nature of KM, 8–9
- International Data Corporation, 110
- Internet communities. See Community of Practice
- Interviewing experts, 104–107
- Interviews, stakeholders, 317
- Inukshuk KM Model, 90–91
- Inventory of intellectual assets. See Knowledge audit
- Invisible colleges, 156
- IRM. See Information Resources Management
- I-space KM model, Boisot. See Boisot I-Space KM Model

- Jet Propulsion Lab (JPL), 148
- J. P. Morgan Chase, 212

- KAO Company, 332
- Kaplan, R., 16–17, 351
- KM. See Knowledge Management
- KMCI Certificate in Knowledge and Information Management, 412, 418

- Knowledge
 - assets (see Intangible assets)
 - characteristics, 2
 - continuity, 117, 133–134, 385–390
 - engineering, 103
 - social context of, 114–115
 - tacit and explicit forms of, 9–11, 61
- Knowledge acquisition. See Technology, knowledge acquisition and application
- Knowledge application. See also Technology, knowledge acquisition and application
 - assessing with Bloom’s taxonomy, 191–198
 - at group and organizational levels, 207–211
- Knowledge assets. See Intangible assets
- Knowledge audit, 318–322
- Knowledge brokers. See Community of practice
- Knowledge capital. See Intangible assets
- Knowledge capture. See Capturing knowledge
- Knowledge continuity, 117, 133–134, 385–390
- Knowledge creation. See Creation of knowledge
- Knowledge discovery and data mining, See Data mining and knowledge discovery
- Knowledge engineering, 103
- Knowledge hoarding, 250, 254, 260
- Knowledge intermediary, 211
- Knowledge Management
 - attributes, 13–15
 - cultural change needed to succeed, 224–227
 - defined, 3–6
 - future challenges, 440–441
 - history, 15–19, 24–25
 - holistic approach, 60
 - importance of, today, 22–24
 - intellectual capital approach vs., 3
 - milestones. See History of KM
 - multidisciplinary nature of, 8–9
 - myths, in KM, 224
 - objectives, 4, 184, 312
 - research in, 442–446
 - skills, 399–401
 - technology (see Technology)

- Knowledge management 2.0. See Social networking
- Knowledge management challenges, issues, 424–425, 440–441
- Knowledge management cycles
 Bukowitz and Williams, 38–42 integrated, 51–54
 McElroy, 42–45
 Meyer and Zack, 33–38
 Wiig, 45–51
- Knowledge management ethics. See Ethics
- Knowledge management models
 Boisot I-Space, 82–85
 Choo sense-making, 73–76
 complex adaptive system, 85–89
 European Foundation for Quality Management (EFQM), 89–90
 Inukshuk, 90–91
 Nonaka and Takeuchi knowledge spiral KM model, 64–71
 Von Krogh and Roos, 62–64
 Wiig, 76–82
- Knowledge management organizations, 410–412
- Knowledge management profession, 412–413
- Knowledge management research, 442–446
- Knowledge management skills. See Knowledge management team
- Knowledge management metrics. See Evaluating knowledge management
- Knowledge management strategy
 defined, 315
 gap analysis, 322–325
 knowledge audit, 318–322
 major components of, 316–317 road map, 325–328
- Knowledge management systems. See Technologies
- Knowledge management teams, roles, 400, 402–403, 410–411
 CHCO, 403–405
 CKO, 403, 406–407
 CLO, 403, 407–410
- in a community of practice, 160–163
 senior management roles, 403–410
- Knowledge management tools. See Technology, Knowledge acquisition and application
- Knowledge mapping. See Cognitive maps
- Knowledge objects, 184–185
- Knowledge Process Quality Model (KPQM), 242
- Knowledge repositories. See Repositories
- Knowledge reuse. See Reuse
- Knowledge Service Centre, KSO, Knowledge Support Office, 163
- Knowledge sharing, 11, 24
 culture, 229, 232–234, 240, 246–256
 incentives for, 169, 173, 435–440 in communities of practice, 145–147, 154–157 obstacles, 167–168
 in virtual CoPs, 163–168, 171
- Knowledge Spiral Model, Nonaka and Takeuchi. See Nonaka and Takeuchi Knowledge Spiral KM Model
- Knowledge Support Office, 163
- Knowledge taxonomy, 124–131
- Knowledge worker, 2, 16, 142
- Kotter, J., 231
- KPMG International, 296
- Kraft General Foods, 68–69
- Kransdorff, Arnold, 366, 383
- KSO. See Knowledge Support Office
- L. L. Bean Clothing, 348
- Lambe, Patrick, 126–127
- Lane, W., 101
- Lave, J., 145, 147
- Learning
 by being told, 107–111
 in a community of practice, 175
 computer-based, 297
 histories, 115
 by observation, 113
 organizational (see Organizational learning) social nature of, 145, 147, 149

- Learning hierarchy. See Bloom's taxonomy
- Learning histories, 115
- Learning organization, 370–372
- Lesser, Eric, 170, 174, 360, 381
- Lessons learned, 3–4, 11, 22, 25, 163–165, 366–368, 378–379
- Lev, B., 343
- Liebowitz, Jay, 131, 243, 292, 322–325
- Lotus Corporation, 466
- Mapping knowledge. See Cognitive maps
- Market basket analysis, 273
- Markus, M., 383
- Mashups, 275–276
- Maturity models,
 Capability Maturity Model (CMM), 238–239
 Community of Practice, CoP, model, 244–245
 Forrester Group KM Model, 242–243
 history of, 238
 Infosys model, 239–242
 Knowledge Process Quality Model (KPQM), 242
- McDermott, R., 147, 175, 360
- McElroy, M., 33, 42–46, 52, 417
- McElroy KM cycle, 42–45
- McKinsey and Company, 345
- Mead's Lexis/Nexis System, 34
- Media richness, 166–167
- Mental model, 249
- Mercedes-Benz, 304
- Metadata, 130, 210, 276–278
- Meyer, M., 33–38, 42, 52
- Meyer and Zack KM cycle, 33–38
- Microsoft Corporation, 334–335
- Milestones in KM. See History of KM
- Milgram, S., 174
- Miller, G., 202
- Models. See Knowledge Management Models,
 Organizational maturity models
- Monarchy model. See Information politics
- Multidisciplinary nature of KM, 8–9
- Myths, in the KM field, 224
- National Science Digital Library (NSDL), 215
- National Aeronautic and Space
 Administration (NASA), 366–367, 380
- Network analysis. See Social network
 analysis
- Networking technologies, 292–296
- Networks, Semantic, 189–191, 203
- Nokia, 251
- Nonaka, I., 61, 64–72, 73–74, 77, 82, 85, 91, 102, 121, 184, 195, 361
- Nonaka and Takeuchi Knowledge Spiral
 Model, 64–72
- Norms, 226–227, 230–233, 235–236, 246, 249, 258, 260
- Northrop-Grumman, 319–320
- Norton, D., 16–17, 351
- Objectives of KM, 4, 184, 312
- Obstacles to knowledge sharing, 167–168
- O'Dell, Carla, 5, 16, 24, 378
- Online communities. See Community of practice, virtual
- OpenText Corporation, 287
- Oracle Systems, 204–205
- Organizational capital. See Infrastructure capital
- Organizational culture. See Culture
- Organizational epistemology. See von Krogh and Roos model
- Organizational knowledge capture,
 118–121
- Organizational learning, 101, 368–369,
 377–378
 Choo's model of, 384
 Crossan and White model of, 384 models of, 379–384
- Organizational maturity models. See Maturity models
- Organizational memory. See Corporate memory
- Organizational stories. See Storytelling
- Organizations, virtual. See Virtual organizations

- Personalization, 186–189
- Personal knowledge management (PKM), 279–280
- Polanyi, Michael, 9, 14, 61, 65
- Politics of organizational culture, 427–429
- Politics of search engines, 425–427
- Portals, 276, 280, 292–296, 302
- Postmodern KM, 446–447
- PriceWaterhouseCoopers, 294
- Principle of bounded rationality, 60–61
- Productivity paradox, 142–144
- Profiling, 192, 204–205, 210
- Prusak, Larry, 2–4, 12, 60, 67, 145, 170, 293, 381–382, 407
- Putnam, Robert, 173
- PWC. See PriceWaterhouseCoopers
- Repertory grid, 127
- Repositories, knowledge, 13, 15, 35–38, 185, 188, 195, 205, 209, 213–214, 216, 293–294
- Research in KM, 442–446
- Reuse, 211–213, 216–217. See also KM Objectives
- Reward and censure. See Incentives
- Reward systems. See Incentives
- Road maps, 113–114
- Rollet, H., 269, 280
- Roos, G., 62–64, 344
- Roos, J., 62–64, 344
- SABRE reservation system, 20
- Schein, E., 229–232
- Schon, D., 43, 120, 249, 370
- Seely Brown, J., 145, 147, 157
- Semantic mapping, 12
- Semantic networks, 189–191, 203
- Senge, Peter, 17, 207, 368, 370, 387
- Senior management roles in KM, 403–410
- Sense making in organizations, 73–76
- Sense-making model, Choo, 73–76
- Sharing, knowledge. See Knowledge sharing
- Shearer, K., 131, 143
- Siemens AG ShareNet, 130
- Siemens Medical Solutions, 440
- Sigma organization, 257
- Simon, Herbert, 73, 75–76
- Skandia Inc., 344–345
- Skidmore, Owings and Merrill LLP (SOW), 72
- Snowden, David, 85–86, 110
- Social bookmarking. See Social tagging
- Social capital, 170–173
- Social context of knowledge, 114–115
- Social network analysis, SNA, 149–152, 359
- Social networking, 288–292
- Social presence, 166
- Social tagging, 277–279
- Sociograms, 149–152
- Stankosky, Michael, 5, 12
- Stewart, Tom, 3–4, 17, 20, 254–255, 334, 406–407
- Storytelling, 107–110
- Structural capital, 335
- Sun Microsystems. See Oracle Systems
- Sveiby, Karl, 19, 172, 233, 313, 344–345, 430, 433
- Systems science. See Viable System model
- Tacit, and explicit forms of knowledge, 9–11, 61
- Tacit knowledge, 9–11, 35, 39, 42
- Tacit Knowledge Systems Inc., 446
- Takeuchi, H., 61, 64–72, 73–74, 77, 82, 85, 91, 102, 121, 184, 195, 361
- Tapscott, D., 253, 417
- Task analysis, 200–201
- Taxonomies. See Knowledge taxonomy
- Teamware Group, 286
- Technology
 - adaptive technologies, 302–303
 - artificial intelligence, 32, 297
 - broadband communication, 208
 - capture and creation, 270–280
 - chat rooms, 271, 281–285
 - cluster analysis, 127–129, 271
 - collaboration technologies, 281–285
 - communication systems, 232

- in a community of practice, 164–165
- computer-based training, 297
- content creation tools, 269–271, 276
- content management tools, 276–277
- data mining tools, 271–274
- decision support systems, 297–299
- electronic performance support systems, 201–206
- intelligent agents, 298–302
- intelligent filtering tools, 298–302
- knowledge acquisition and application, 297–303
- knowledge sharing and dissemination, 280–296
- networking technologies, 292–296
- portals, 276, 280, 292–296, 302
- repositories, 13, 15, 185, 188, 195, 205, 209, 213–214, 216
- twitter, 284
- types of, 269–270
- Texaco, 155
- TFPL Company, 398–401
- Thomas and Betts Corporation, 148–149
3M, 332
- Tools. See Technologies
- Trace analysis. See Usage analysis
- Tragedy of the Commons, 158–159
- Transparency of an organization. See Organization transparency
- Transport Canada, 388–390
- Twitter, 284

- Undernet, the, 169–179
- Usage analysis, 189–190, 206
- U.S. Army, 287
- User-centric profiling. See Profiling
- User modeling. See Personalization; Usage
analysis

- Valuation of intellectual capital. See
Evaluating knowledge management
- Viable System Model, 85
- Viant Consulting Company, 255

- Virtual communities. See Community of practice, virtual
- Virtual organizations, 258
- Von Krogh, G., 62–64
- Von Krogh and Roos Organizational epistemology Model, 62–64
- VSM. See Viable System Model

- Web 2.0. See Social networking
- Web logs. See Blogs
- Weick, Karl, 73–75
- Wenger CoP lifecycle maturity model,
244–245
- Wenger, Etienne, 145, 147, 158, 160, 175, 386
- White, R., 101
- Wiig, K., 6–7, 17, 19, 21–22, 33, 45–52,
76–82, 381
- Wiig KM cycle, 45–52
- Wiig KM model, 76–82
- Wiki, 285–288
- Wikipedia, 286
- Williams, R., 33, 38–42, 52
- World Bank, 314–315

- Xerox Business Systems, 111, 256, 348
- XML. See Extensible Markup Language
- Xref, 254

- Yellow Pages, 35, 69, 152–154, 284

- Zack, M., 33–38, 42, 52, 214, 322