

Acknowledgments

I thank Chun Ming Liew, Anne Katrin Debusmann, Claudio Hasler, and Stephen Kronenburg, alumni of the CEMS master's degree in international management program at Rotterdam School of Management, who under my supervision greatly contributed to research on captive centers. I will always be indebted to this young, ambitious, and talented group of people.

I am grateful to Rotterdam School of Management and Erasmus Research Institute of Management for their continuous support in my research.

I thank my editor, Darcie Carsner Torres, for the work she did on the manuscript.

My gratitude also goes to the people at the MIT Press for their hard work and dedication. In particular, I thank Jane Macdonald for all the enthusiasm and professionalism that helped bring this research project to its conclusion.

Last but not least are the three most important people in my life: my wife, Julia, who spent hours on the manuscript and gave me advice, support, and endless love; and my daughter, Dari, and my baby boy, Eden, who are the joy of my life. I will never be able to thank you enough, Julia, Dari, and Eden, for everything you have given me, so I will simply say, "Thank you."
