

Figure 18.8 The energy of a system: Representing the state of the system by a ball on the energy surface, the system is constrained such that the ball (or state) must always move downhill, toward a minimum.